DEATH CALLS YOUNG WIFE AND MOTHER

Mrs. L. E. Reneau, aged 27 years, 10 months and 11 days, died at the City hospital Tuesday evening, April 25 at 6:40 o'clock. Funeral services were held Thursday, April 27, at 10:30 a. m. at the Cottage Hill church, interment following in the cemetery at that place with the Isaac Crouch Funeral home in charge.

Pallbearers were Mrs. Halsell Davis, Mrs. Hester Snider, Mrs. Homer Dowell, Mrs. A. B. Griffin, Mrs. C. T. Ford and Mrs. T. J. Lane.

Honorary pallearers were members of the Euzelian Sunday school class of the First Baptist church, this city of which she was a member.

The deceased was born in the state of Tennessee June 15, 1905, being a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Gorrell. Her maden name was Miss Cecil Gorrell. She had resided in the county for twenty-three years, the past five of which she was a resident of McKinney. She was a member of the Baptist church.

She is survived by her husband, an infant daughter, by her mother, Mrs. L. L. Gorrell of Plainview and the following brothers and sisters: Edgar Gorrell of Pilot Point; Floyd Gorrell, Ralls, Texas; Swan Gorrell, Plainview; Misses Ethel and Charsie Gorrell, Plainview; Mrs. Georgia Merritt, Phoenix, Ariz.; Mrs. Ora Landers, Floydada; Mrs. Brindee Clark, Canyon, Texas.

Wheat prices in Swisher county gained 10c a bushel last week, or approximately 25 per cent, to a price of 53c a bushel as the week ended. Farm price of wheat in Texas has not averaged as high as this in more than a year. The price rise was attributed mostly to the short crop prospects and inflationary trends at Washington.

SUPERVISOR OF SCHOOLS IS VISITOR HERE

Dr. Jeremiah Rhodes, acting supervisor of high schools of the state of Texas, was a welcome visitor at the L. A. Scott Junior High school in this city all day Tuesday. Dr. Rhodes, who has also been appointed supervisor of junior high schools of the state highly complimented the Scott Junior High during his visit here. He established the first system of junior high schools in this state, at San Antonio, in 1921, and has been highly interested in junior high school work ever since. The McKinney Junior High school was very happy to have Dr. Rhodes present with them.

Thanks to Annie Daniels, Route 1, Melissa, for renewal subscription to The Weekly Democrat-Gazette.

Virginia Ann Cox has returned to her home in Gilmer, after spending a few days with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Foster, in this city.

Bowlby School To Present Play, "Poor Father"

Miss Texie Addington, teacher, announces that Bowlby school will present "Poor Father," a comedy-drama at Foote, six miles west of McKinney Friday night, April 28 at 8:15. The play will be given at Foote, which is in the same community because of the advantages to be derived from using the tabernacle.

The Ladies' Aid society offers a special attraction, designed to please every one. A large attendance is desired.

Plans Will Be Worked Out At Jaycee Meeting Here Thursday Night

The McKinney Junior Chamber of Commerce will meet at the C. of C. rooms in this city Thursday night of this week, April 27, at 7:45 o'clock, according to President W. P. Abernathy who is calling the meeting.

At this time Thos. Johnson, well known McKinney banker, will talk on the present administration's inflation program. Jaycee members will also discuss the city championship golf tournament. This tournament will be started at the Hill Crest Country club on Friday April 28, sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, with a three-fold purpose—to help furnish work for McKinney's unemployed, who will be used as caddies; to create more interest in the Hill Crest Country club and to promote fellowship among local golfers.

Every player entering the tournament agrees to use a caddy each time he plays. These caddies will be selected from a list of McKinney's unemployed to be furnished by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. This is expected to furnish employment for fifty men at different intervals during the next two weeks. Earl Walker, chairman of the committee arranging the tourney, states that caddies will be on hand at the Hill Crest links for all players, April 28, 29 and 30.

The Jaycees, at tomorrow night's meeting, will also discuss their movement recently inaugurated to help Chief J. S. McKinney and the Volunteer firemen during the progress of a fire.

All members are urged to be present at Thursday night's meeting.

O. E. Evans of McKinney has recently purchased a 35-acre farm, 3 miles west of Farmersville on the McKinney highway. The deal was handled by R. L. Hight.

METHODISTS HOLD DIST. CONFERENCE AT DUNCANVILLE

District conference of the McKinney district, Methodist Episcopal Church, South, was held Tuesday, April 25, at Duncanville with splendid attendance and interest. The high point of the conference spiritually was the sermon at 11 o'clock by Bishop H. A. Boaz.

Dr. H. G. Ryan, presiding elder of McKinney, was in the chair and was much encouraged over the reports from every charge in the district, which has twenty-one pastors and more than twice that many churches being served. Rev. T. H. Browning of Garland was elected secretary. Both of the McKinney churches were well represented. The First church was headed by its pastor, Dr. Claude M. Simpson, with Mrs. Claude M. Simpson, Mrs. H. G. Ryan, Mrs. E. L. Burton, Mrs. Wallace Hughston, Mrs. George Reinhardt, Judge Wallace Hughston and Walter B. Wilson, all delegates, also attending. The South Wilcox Street church was represented by its popular pastor, Rev. E. B. Jackson, and two delegates, Mrs. M. H. Porter and Mrs. Sallie Dalton. Both of these McKinney churches presented fairly good reports for the first six months of the conference year that has now elapsed. Rev. Mr. Jackson is serving his third year as pastor at South Wilcox Street. He reported ten additions thus far this year, and good Sunday school interest. Dr. Simpson's church is the largest one in the district. It also has made substantial progress this year, which is his second year to serve along every line. Its Sunday school has grown to a larger attendance than it has enjoyed before in several years and the church has had more additions to it than any of the other churches in the district. Dr. Simpson served as chairman of the resolutions committee and presented resolutions strongly upholding the Eighteenth Amendment and general cause of temperance. [illegible]

RAY ASHLEY.

Ray Ashley, friendly and courteous McKinney drayman, progressive citizen and town booster, on last Wednesday, April 26, celebrated his forty-first birthday. We have known Ray Ashley a long time and like the rest of his host of friends, we always find him in an optimistic mood. He always has a smile that is catching.

Ray is a lover of fine horses and has some good ones himself, in which he takes great pride.

Along with his many other McKinney friends, we congratulate him on reaching another milestone in life and wish him many more such happy occasions.

Peggy Holt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Holt, was taken to a hospital after receiving injuries in a fall from an automobile when a door came open. She was en route to her home in Allen when the accident occurred. She was badly bruised when she struck the pavement.—Frisco Journal.

Rev. Thos. Sterck announces appointments to preach both at the morning and evening hours at the Anna Methodst church on the fifth Sunday which is April 30. Rev. Mr. Sterck is a very busy, consecrated young pastor. He and his wife were among those attending district conference Tuesday at Duncanville.

H. D. Mouzon Sr., 4148 Prescott, Dallas, sends Daily Courier-Gazette his renewal subscription for which we thank him. Mr. and Mrs. Mouzon made their home in McKinney for many years, where they are greatly esteemed by scores of good friends. Fine people whom we would be glad to see move back here to their old home again.

The regular semi-monthly singing convention will be held at the First Baptist church in this city Friday night, April 28, at 7:30 o'clock. Special singers will be here from other sections as well as local talent. Every one is invited.

Dr. Ada Eastin of Boulder, Colo., who is here for a few days' visit to Dr. Claude M. Simpson and wife, the latter being her sister, accompanied them to Duncanville Tuesday and was an interested visitor at the McKinney district conference, M. E. Church, South, held all day at that place. Dr. Eastin, several months ago, visited her McKinney relatives for a few days as she was en route to Mexico City to visit two daughters who are living in that republic. After completing her visit in McKinney, she will proceed on to her home at Boulder, Colo. Dr. Eastin has formed a number of acquaintances in McKinney [illegible]

89 Years Old

ELD. R. C. HORN.

ELD. R. C. HORN OBSERVES HIS 89TH BIRTHDAY

Eld. R. C. Horn, one of Collin county's oldest and most beloved citizens and the greatest link between our county's pioneer history and the present, last (Wednesday), April 26, 1933, reached his eighty-ninth year.

Elder Horn is remarkably well preserved for a man of his advanced years and often walks down town from his home on Parker street. He is hearty, cheerful, cultured, intelligent and writes a good hand and talks in a steady voice. His hearing is also fairly good.

Eld. Horn has for many decades kept a personal diary of his daily life, extracts from which he publishes in this paper at intervals under the caption, "Records of a Busy Life." His diary is most valuable from a county historical standpoint. He has also published a book of personal experiences and observations.

Following their annual custom, the First Christian church in this city of which he is a member will have Eld. Horn to fill that pulpit Sunday morning, April 30, at 11 o'clock, after which he and his close friends and relatives will enjoy a dinner complimentary to him. If the weather is pretty, the dinner will be held at Finch park. Otherwise is will be held at the church.

Eld. Horn, who has held pastorates in different parts of the county and farmed at the same time for over fifty years, informs us that the month of April is a significant one in his life. He was born in April, baptized in April and started preaching in April.

Although he realizes eighty-nine years is a mighty long life for any one, Eld. Horn says that he is hoping for many more such happy birthdays. He has lived a clean, honest, sober, upright Christian life and consequently is in good physical, moral and mental shape.

He is an ex-Confederate veteran—being one of a very few now left in our county.

Two Girls Die In Creek After Car Is Stalled; $1,000,000 Loss Sustained From Hail and Flood

Stocks Are Ruined By Rain After Windows Crash.

3.42 Inch Rainfall

Office Buildings, Storages, Warehouses, Homes All Suffer Damage

Dallas, Texas, April 26.—Hail and rain, driven by a fifty-mile-an-hour wind, that struck late Tuesday afternoon, left a trial of destruction across Dallas, with the losses caused by smashed glass and roofs, damaged goods and washed streets estimated at about $1,000,000.

Buildings in the downtown district showed wide expanses of window glass on the north side completely riddled by the hail, as if machine gun fire had been directed against them. The high wind drove the big ice pellets with bullet-like force. Rain poured in the openings, damaging merchandise stocks in many places.

Overcast skies Wednesday morning indicated a continuation of the spring rains. Dr. J. L. Cline, weather observer, reported that Dallas received 3.42 inches of rain during the twenty-four hours ending at 7 a. m. The river rose sharply, and Wednesday morning was at the 24.6-foot stage and rising.

Repairing the hail damage to sheet glass windows began almost as soon as the storm subsided. Workmen toiled all night long in some of the downtown buildngs as plate glass companies scoured the city for additional glaziers and glass cuters. The repair work will keep a large force busy for a week or ten days, the companies estimated.

The hailstones were reported not as large as during the disastrous storm of May, 1926, but the strong wind probably caused more extensive damage in Tuesday's storm, and the downpour of rain following the hailstorm added to the wreckage.

PRESBYTERIAN REVIVAL WILL CLOSE SUNDAY

The First Presbyterian church revival, with only a few days left until its close Sunday night, April 30, is drawing large audiences at both morning and evening hours. The evangelist, Dr. Samuel L. Joekel, of Austin, is bringing some wonderful messages at 10:30 each morning and 7:30 at night.

Dr. Joekel is professor of Bible in the Austin Thological Seminary at Austin and also professor of courses in Old Testament history and Religious Education at the University of Texas.

Large attendances are expected until the revival closes.

RAINFALL OF 2.35 INCHES PAST 4 DAYS

McKinney and vicinity—besieged by heavy rains since Saturday night—was visited by another rainstorm late Tuesday afternoon and night. The rainfall, beginning at 5 p. m. lasted for several hours and totaled 1.15 inches, which added to the 1.20 inches which had already fallen since Saturday makes a total of 2.35 inches of rain in this city the last four days.

Wednesday dawned cloudy with gray, low hanging clouds threatening more rain at any minute. Old Sol was doing his best, however, to disperse them and local citizens were hopeful that before nightfall the sky would be clear.

Temperatures were ideal, the thermometer registering 73 degrees at 6:30 o'clock Tuesday evening and 62 degrees at 7:00 a. m. Wednesday.

Farmers of the county were of the opinion that the rain thus far was sufficient and timely for corn and cotton. However, further rains would seriously hinder corn plowing and the planting of the remainder of the cotton crop.

Damage from hail, which fell here and over the county Monday night, was slight.

POEMS OF MRS. L. A. SCOTT ARE SET TO MUSIC

Two of the poems of Mrs. L. A. Scott, gifted McKinney writer, entitled "Blue-Eyed Elfin of the Pines" and "Paradise of Love," have been set to music and may now be purchased in McKinney. Both poems, written in pleasing style, should prove popular, not only with local townspeople, but with all lovers of pretty poetry set to music.

"Blue-Eyed Elfin of the Pines" was set to music by E. R. Belwood of London, while the musical accompaniment to "Paradise of Love" was provided by Claud Lapham.

The songs, which may be purchased at Miss Bertha Goostree's store, will no doubt be used in recitals and programs of a varied nature in this city. In fact, one well-known local music instructor, Miss Tennie Strickland, announces that she has already made plans to use one in a recital in the near future. The musical accompaniment has a pleasing rythm that is sure to delight every hearer and which will cause the songs to grow in popularity as new audiences hear them from time to time.

Mrs. Scott's fame as a writer of poems has spread far and wide and her workmanship has attracted not only attention in her home state and other states of the nation, but also in London, England.

Mrs. Marshall Padgitt and Miss Dorothy Hardin are spending Wednesday visiting in Dallas.

Rev. F. Lamar McGown, pastor of the Allen Methodist church, and wife attended the dstrict conference Tuesday at Duncanville in which this worthy young pastor took an active part. He is also pastor of the Methodist churches at Allen and Blythe's Chapel, but lives in the parsonage at Allen. He had present the following delegates from the Allen charge: George L. Shields, Mrs. George L. Shields, C. W. Williams, G. P. Berry, Mrs. Charley Milner, Mrs. Brooks and Mrs. C. W. Williams.

This editor enjoyed a brief visit this afternoon with our good friend, Hon. Jewell E. Abernathy, who is taking a rest cure of several weeks at his home as prescribed by his family physician. We found him to be without pain, patiently biding his time until he is advised to get out and return to his office again, which is expected to be in the very near future. Jewell is recognized as one of our most capable as well as most popular North Texas practicing attorneys and citizens. He served several years as county attorney of this, his native county. He is the soul of courtesy, sincerity and whatever trust he may accept. He was Collin County chairman of the Speaker Jack Garner forces preceding the national convention last June at which he was nominated for the [illegible]

At Least 1,000 Persons Made Temporarily Homeless.

Dozens Rescued

Refugees Cared For In Temporary Headquarters In Old Y. M. C. A. Building

Dallas, Texas, April 26.—Death and misery stalked today in the wake of one of the worst floods of the city's history.

The bodies of three known dead—two white girls and a negro woman—were recovered at 7 a. m. by firemen and volunteer workers who dragged the receding waters for half a dozen more believed to have perished.

At least 1,000 persons were made temporarily homeless and welfare workers and Salvation Army workers taxed their facilities to the utmost to relieve hunger and suffering during the emergency.

Dozens were rescued from the tops of trees and buildings. Shivering from cold, hunger and exposure, the refugees, many of them children, were cared for in temporary headquarters set up in the old Y. M. C. A. building across the street from the city hall.

The known dead:

MRS. CLARA CAMBRIDGE, 20, of 3015 Holmes street.

MISS SIBYL COMPTON, 30, of 1738 Beaumont street.

ALICE BERRY, 40, negro woman, of 710 South Pacific.

The first body, that of the negro woman, was recovered early Wednesday morning by firemen who waded waist-deep in water after David Warren, negro, of 714 South Pacific, reported seeing a woman's body floating in his back yard. The body was lodged between the palings of a board fence, only a short distance from the woman's home.

A short time later the flood waters gave up the bodies of Mrs. Clara Cambridge and Miss Sibyl Compton, who drowned when they were swept from their automobile on the Hatcher street bridge, near Rosine street, South Dallas.

A third woman, Miss Irma

Taylor Jordan, Jr.

Once again the black camel death has entered our community and knelt at the door of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Jordan, and taken the spirit of their little son and brother away. Taylor Jr., had only been ill one week with what at first was believed to be measles, later it was decided to be scarlet fever and his suffering was intense, but he bore it so patiently in an effort to help mother and daddy make him well. He was looking forward to a happy Easter Sunday, but pneumonia developed and in fourteen hours the death angel crept in and stole the spirit of little brother away and the Lord took it home to heaven to bloom forever in paradise. Taylor Jordan, Jr. was born August 3, 1928, and passed away April 14, 1933 at the tender age of 4 years, 8 months and 11 days. Besides his heart broken parents, he is survived by one sister, Wanda Elizabeth, age 6 years, and a baby brother, James Russell, age 6 weeks. His grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Jordan and Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Robison, and a number of uncles and aunts and cousins.

Little Brother, as he was lovingly called by everyone, was one of the brightest and most lovable children in the community. He was his mother's pride and joy. His daddy's constant companion. At the table he would refuse anything to eat that his daddy didn't like. Verily he was always following in daddy's footsteps.

"When we see the precious blossom
That we tended with such care,
Rudely taken from our bosom
How our hearts almost despair.
Round his little grave we linger,
Til the setting sun is low.
Feeling all our hopes have perished
With the flower we cherished so."

Funeral services were conducted at the home by the pastor, Rev. A. L. Clinkenbeard, assisted by Rev. Thomas Sterck. They placed the precious body in a white casket and carried it away to "God's Acre" there to be until the resurrection morning when soul and body shall meet once more.

Pallbearers were Wortley Dickenson, Boyd Hitchcock, Albert Dickerson and R. L. Hume.

The floral offerings were beautiful and [illegible] home of McKinney was in charge of arrangements.

Relatives and friends were present from McKinney, Melissa, Anna, Van Alstyne.

M'KINNEY 25 Years Ago

FROM THE FILES OF THE DAILY COURIER-GAZETTE

(April 17, 1908.)

Andrew J. Atkinson, 67 years, 3 months and 19 days old, died today at the home of his son, Jesse Atkinson, and wife, on South Chestnut street. He was ill only a few days. He was born a Clarksville, Red River county, Texas, December 28, 1840. When a boy his parents moved to Washington county, where his father was elected to the Texas legislature, before the state capital was moved to Austin. His family settled at Old Rowlett in Collin county in 1853. He was a lieutenant in Company E, Stephens Regiment, of which company Judge Tom J. Brown was Captain in the confederate army. He was married March 25, 1869, to Miss Mildred Field, sister of Mrs. D. C. Hill and Mrs. Lucy Dulaney, both of this city. She died April 29, 1902. He is survived by three children: Jesse Atkinson, Mrs. Tom M. Beverly of Crowell, Texas, and Mrs. Walter Howell of McKinney. He was a Baptist, an Odd Fellow, a Knight of Honor and a member of J. W. Throckmorton Camp, U. C. V.

2,500 MASONS HERE FOR RITES

(San Antonio Express Apr. 23)

The Scottish Rite Cathedral was crowded Thursday night with San Antonio and visiting Masons for an exemplification of the Master's Degree by members of the committee on work of the Grand Lodge. Many lodges from the 39th District sent delegations and it was estimated that the audience totaled 2,500 persons.

Wallace Hughston of McKinney, grand master of the Texas Grand Lodge, delivered an address. The ceremony was under auspices of all lodges in San Antonio and was given in the cathedral because of the large hall available there. Invitations were extended to every lodge in Texas and it was declared that Masons were here from all sections of Texas, especially from Southwest Texas.

The date of the ceremony was chosen in order to give visitors an opportunity to witness the work and then remain over for a day to view the Battle of Flowers parade, according to C. W. Neisel, worshipful master of Perfect Union Lodge No. 10.

THREE BODIES

Hicks, 29, of 208 South Ewing, was rescued by police Tuesday night.

Although accurate figures were not available, the damage was estimated roughly at $1,000,000. Loss to insurance companies probably will reach staggering sums—both flood damage and damage to property from the devastating hailstorm which preceded it.

Fear that possibly a dozen squatters in the Trinity River valley may have lost their lives was expressed by welfare workers, routed from their beds to aid the hungry and suffering. In temporary relief headquarters small children cried from fear and hunger. Metzger's Dairy, quick to sense the need among children, furnished milk to those taken to the stations.

Annual Conference Delegates.

Delegates to annual conference to be held next October were elected as follows: Mrs. C. M. Simpson of McKinney; Mrs. Alex Hubbard of Duncanville, Judge Wallace Hughston of McKinney, H. C. Jones of Lancaster, Dr. W. F. Hayes of Farmersville, John W. Berry of Melissa, E. P. Squibbs of Garland, Miss Ed Couch of Dallas, Mrs. G. E. Camster of Richardson and Walter B. Wilson of McKinney.

Alternates—Mrs. O. T. Mitchell, Mrs. P. F. Brooks, Thos. Robinson, J. C. Flannery and Will B. Miller.

Many prominent visitors were introduced to the conference from various points over North and East Texas by Dr. Ryan.

Mrs. Claude M. Simpson, president of the North Texas Conference Missionary Society women, made a brief but very interesting address on her department of work. She stated that 7,265 women belonged to the societies in the North Texas conference and during the past year reported 92 per cent collected of their $30,000 pledge to the Woman's Council activities.

Rev. Alex Hubbard Host.

Rev. Alex Hubbard; pastor of the host church, is serving his third year as pastor at Duncanville. His brick church with basement and modern conveniences would do credit to a city church. He, his wife and fine young son, Millard Hubbard, headed his congregation in dispensing a hospitality to the conference that could not have been excelled in its warmth and sincerity. At 12:30 o'clock, immediately following the close of the Bishop's sermon, a feast of everything imaginable good to eat was spread in the basement of the church to which the large crowd present was bidden. It seemed like almost as much was left as was eaten. The Tennessee dairy provided rich Jersey bottled milk for the occasion and a big ice cream factory provided delicious ice cream to be served at the close of the meal. Rev. Mr. Hubbard is quite well known over the McKinney district, having served churches at Anna, Josephine and other points prior to going to Duncanville. He is an optimistic, happy, constructive pastor, who succeeds in building up churches wherever he is sent. He has fine co-operation in the help of his devoted wife who was elected one of the delegates to annual conference next fall.

Collin County Representation.

Collin county ,one of the seventy counties included in the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, was represented by several civic workers, including Thos. E. Craig,county councillor, and wife; Howard S. Ware, former county councillor; W. Hammond Moore, secretary of the McKinney Chamber of Commerec and wife; A. H. Eubanks, Gibson Caldwell and Walter B. Wilson. Editor Arthur A. Bagwill of the Plano Star-Courier and several fellow townsmen also intended to attend but had some serious car trouble en route and had to return home.

The convention was largely attended, many towns being represented by large delegations of men, women and in some instances school students and brass bands. The convention voted to meet next year at Texarkana, which city sent a special train of enthusiastic boosters to Jacksonville headed by a band to make a fight for the eighth annual convention.

Economy and Progress.

The convention expressed the feeling that many worthwhile projects are under consideration whereby state money could be spent and value reecived, but in resolutions recognized fundamental principle of public as well as private economies and further "that we do not favor any new form of taxation or any additional taxes until after appropriations and expenditures have been reduced to the lowest possible minimum consistent with the practical operation of the necessary functions of the government and at least 25 per cent under the last biennium and not then unless ad valorem taxes are reduced."

The convention passed a resolution asking that the board of the Reconstruction Finance corporation speed up action on applications from counties and cities for self-liquidating loans. It asked that loans be made, on adequate security, to commercial enterprises engaged in the processing of agricultural products.

Roosevelt Is Commended.

Commendation of President Franklin D. Roosevelt for his "courageous and vigorous efforts to correct the economic ills of this and other nations of the world" and expressing confidence in his program, was passed with a unanimous standing vote.

Support of the general proposition of revising the tariff systems of all the world powers and a support of the general proposition of granting broad concessions to nations owing the United States World war debts ,in return for tariff revisions by other nations, were advocated in a resolution, for the bettermen of the world trade of the nations.

SEN. PERKINS, M'KINNEY'S BEST KNOWN CITIZEN

Senator Tom W. Perkins, one of the publishers of the McKinney Daily Courier-Gazette and The Weekly Democrat-Gazette, is spending a few days in Mineral Wells, drinking the water and taking a few days' rest.

In addition to being one of Texas' most successful newspaper publishers, a past president of the Texas Press association, Senator Perkins has been one of the foremost civic leaders in McKinney for more than a score of years. He has just closed a ten years' successful service as mayor of McKinney.

More than twenty-five years ago he was a leader in organizing the Chamber of Commerce in McKinney, and was its first president and ever since has been on the board of directors. The securing of McKinney's big cotton mill, many years ago, is said to be entirely due to the efforts of Senator Perkins.

Senator Perkins is a strong booster for Mineral Wells and believes in the curative values of her mineral waters. He is almost as well-known here as in his home town and is always a welcome guest.—The Mineral Wells Index.

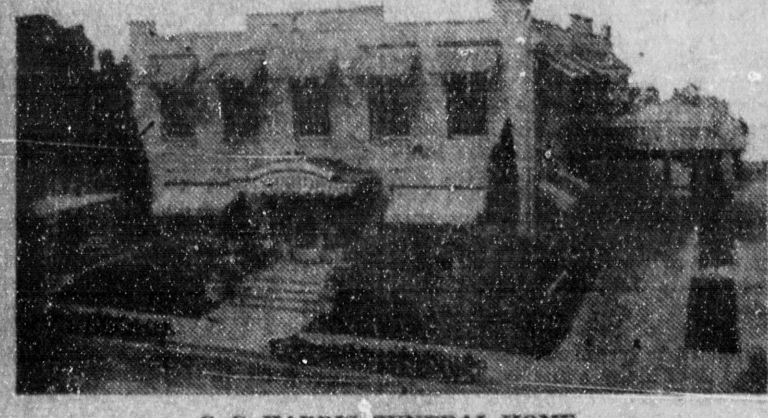
C. C. HARRIS FUNERAL HOME IS REAL McKINNEY ASSET WITH MODERN FACILITIES

RECENTLY ESTABLISHED RECORD IN HANDLING FIVE ADULT FUNERALS IN EIGHT HOURS—BEAUTIFUL TWO-STORY BRICK BUILDING SPECIALLY ERECTED AND EQUIPPED FOR IT—BUSINESS STEADILY GROWING.



C. C. HARRIS FUNERAL HOME

A new record in McKinney, since the day of modern funerals, was established by the C. C. Harris Funeral home a few weeks ago when it directed five adult modern funeral services between the hours of 9:30 a. m. and 5:30 p. m. of the same day. It is worthy of mention to say that they rendered these services without using any other funeral director's assistance, also without having to borrow any equipment or other aid whatsoever. This feat corroborates and backs up the truth as set forth in their advertisements appearing regularly in this paper, calling the public's attention to their facilities and ability to serve you satisfactorily.

This outstanding institution is located on West Louisiana street. It is housed in its own pretty two-story, modern brick building, specially erected to meet the need of the public in its line. This business has always been noted for its progressiveness and civic pride. It is a most commendable enterprise and McKinney is proud of such a modern business home—it is a real asset to the city. The funeral home as well as the entire equipment is one of the best, most substantial and modern in the entire state, especially in a town of McKinney's size.

In celebrating the seventh anniversary of the building of their modern funeral home, Mr. and Mrs. Harris are also celebrating concurrently twelve years of faithful service to McKinney, while Mr. Harris has twenty-five years to his credit as an expert funeral director. He came to McKinney from Grandbury, Texas, and has established an enviable reputation for fair dealing, expert and obliging service. He is certainly to be commended for his enterprise and faith in McKinney and surrounding territory as well as for his progressive spirit and unfailing interest in civic and public affairs.

Expert Funeral Director

C. C. HARRIS, Proprietor.

Visitors are always welcome at this beautiful, modern funeral home and are cordially received by Mr. and Mrs. Harris and also by Mr. and Mrs. C. L. McDonald associated with them at any time you may call.

Refer to the advertising columns of these papers for additional information from time to time relative to this enterprising McKinney business concern built, owned and operated by C. C. Harris.

STATE DEMOCRATIC CHAIRMAN SAYS TEXAS TO BE BENEFITTED FROM INFLATION PROGRAM

Texas, because it is primarily an agricultural region, will benefit more than any other state from the Roosevelt program of controlled inflation, in the opinion of Maury Hughes of Dallas, state Democratic chairman, who said Friday that he was for the president's plan "in a big way."

"With cheaper money the price of cotton and grains is bound to go up and mortgages can be reduced and taxes and interest taken care of," Mr. Hughes said. "I believe that Texas will be among the first states to benefit from the inflation movement.

"On a recent trip to New York and Washington, I investigated the economic situation, talking to every one I could who claimed to know anything about it. My thought is that cheapening the dollar on a controlled basis will be the greatest thing that could happen to an agricultural country.

"The farmer now has practically no income. The cost of production to him is not going up. It now costs him almost nothing to make a crop, and with rising prices he will receive some income for his product. What difference does it make to a man if he can buy a suit of clothes for $1 if he hasn't the dollar? But if the same suit costs $10 and he has $10 with which to buy it, everyone is better off.

"Opposition to the president's program is coming from the manufacturing and money centers, where they want a high-priced dollar. But the agricultural regions must have a cheaper dollar, and it will be a savior to the farmers of Texas. For as the price of farm products go up, we won't need much else in the way of relief programs to bring back prosperity. The improved condition of the farmer, with his increased buying power, will be reflected soon in cities like Dallas, located in the midst of an agricultural region, and soon the man on a salary and drawing wages will find his income being increased as business improves."

Mr. Hughes expressed the hope that congress will give President Roosevelt full and complete power over inflation and money control.

"Nobody knows the exact results of the plan, so there can be no set rules," Mr. Hughes said. "The regulations must be flexible [illegible] to make the rules and meet situations as they arise."

Former State Senator John Davis of Dallas, member of the state Democratic executive committee from the Dallas district, said he didn't know how the Roosevelt inflation program would work out, but that he was glad that the president was endeavoring to find a solution.

"If his plan doesn't work, it can be stopped and something else tried," Mr. Davis commented. "I am for anything that improves business and am glad that President Roosevelt is showing the nerve and determination to try to find the solution to our economic problems."

FUNERAL HELD WEDNESDAY FOR MRS. NEW

Funeral services for Mrs. Harriett Roena New, aged 54, were held at the family residence, 1107 Pearson avenue, this city, Wednesday morning, April 19, at 10:30 o'clock. Rev. E. B. Fincher of Amarillo, former pastor of the deceased, conducted the funeral. The deceased was a member of the First Presbyterian church of this city. Interment was made in Pecan Grove cemetery.

The deceased was the wife of Alp Hines New. She was a native of Hampshire, Tenn., but had resided in McKinney for more than thirty years. She had been in ill health for the past three months.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Wilma Kindle and Mrs. Minnie Mae Kindle, both of this city; two brothers, Willie and Dennis Vaughn of Hampshire, Tenn., and three grandchildren, Dorothy Jean, William James and Jewel Lester Kindle.

The C. C. Fuenral home of this city had charge of burial arrangements.

Constable S. L. Betty was a business visitor in McKinney Monday and while here attended the opening day of Fifty-Ninth District court. He was appointed a riding bailiff for the April term.

PRESIDING ELDER PREACHES AT SOUTH WILCOX

Splendid services were held at the South Wilcox Street Methodist church in this city Saturday night and Sunday with good attendance and interest. Saturday night, Rev. H. G. Ryan, presiding elder of the McKinney district, was in the pulpit at a special service, bringing a splendid message. After his sermon, the regular quarterly conference of the church was held.

Rev. E. B. Jackson, the pastor, who closed his revival meeting Easter was in the pulpit at both morning and evening hours, bringing two splendid sermons.

Rev. Mr. Ryan will again occupy the South Wilcox pulpit tonight (Monday) at another sepecial service. Interest in church work among South Wilcox members is good and attendance has been spelndid at all services lately especially during the pre-Easter revival during which several new members were added to the church.

FORMER M'KINNEY MAN IMPROVED AFTER ACCIDENT

S. A. Osburn, of Abilene, but formerly of McKinney, was seriously injured in an automobile accident Saturday about noon in Abilene, near which city he is now residing. Tre accident occurred as two young ladies, attempting to pass the car in which Mr. Osburn and his son, Beecher, were riding, collided with the Osburn car, which was badly damaged. The son escaped uninjured but Mr. Osburn received cuts and bruises about his face and head.

Mr. Osburn's sister, Mrs. Henry Morgan, and his son and daughter, Paul Osburn and Mrs. Otis Duvall, of this city, received word soon after the accident and left immediately to attend his bedside. His other children, Beecher Osburn, Mrs. Doyle Kuykendall, Ada Lee, Dorothy and Johnnie Osburn, are also at his bedside. His brothers, C. R. and Jess Osburn of Melissa and Jim Osburn of McKinney left Sunday to visit him.

Monday his condition was reported as slightly improved and the many friends here in McKinney and Collin county hope for his speedy and complete recovery.

HAPPY EXPERIENCE OF J. S. FORSYTH HERE RECENTLY

J. S. (Scotty) Forsyth had a very happy experience during the recent meeting of the Dallas Presbytery in this city in having as his guest, Dr. Eugene Lowrence and Chas. E. Birk, pastor and elder at Iowa Park. With Mr. Forsyth the name Lawrence has a special charm. He says: "It carries back to the first Sunday he spent in America, at Sherman, Texas. The late Dr. John Moore had just returned from the Presbytery held that year at Abilene, the first time they had ever met that far west. There were many things to report that were discouraging. Austin college had reached a crisis in its history and all the faculty had been forced to resign. But one bright spot was that they had received in the Presbyterian ministry, Col. W. L. Lawrence, father of my guest of this year.

"He had been a colonel in the Confederate army and a lawyer by profession, but felt the call to preach. He later established our church in Oak Cliff and finished his ministry at San Saba. Our church here called him three times to our pastorate but he did not accept. The son has held pastorates at Wichita Falls, and for the last twenty-five years at Iowa Park, handicapped by deafness all his life, but one of the happiest, most buoyant spirited Christians I have ever met and who can measure the worth of a life like his stamped on a community by a lifetime of sacrificial service.

"My other guest, Chas. E. Birk, attended A. & M. college with my two younger sons. He is the son of a German immigrant, who came to the United States from Baden, Germany, when twenty-four years old in 1868. Now, at 89, he is enjoying the evening of life at oIwa Park. He is a large landowner and a breeder of pedigreed, long staple cotton. I have seldom seen a finer specimen of physical manhood and i tis refreshing to see a young man of that type actively engaged as an elder carrying forward the work of the fathers.

"The Presbytery honored him by electing him commissioner to the general assembly, which meets at Montreat, North Carolina, May 26. It is good for a man that he wear the yoke in his youth.

Yours Truly,
JAS. S. FORSYTH."

Virgil Hines, young McKinney business man, has been confined to his home the past day or two with tonsilitis.

Ensign J. E. Dodson, U. S. N., and wife, and Miss Virginia Dodson of Waco, will arrive Wednesday to visit their aunt, Mrs. M. H. Garnett, in this city. Ensign Dodson and wife are on their way from the naval aviation base, Pensacola, Fla., to San Diego, Cal., where they expect to be stationed for some time.

FRANK E. WILCOX JR. GRADUATE OF RADIO SCHOOL

Frank E. Wilcox, Jr., son of Judge and Mrs. F. E. Wilcox, is at home from Port Arthur, Texas, where he recently graduated from the Port Arthur Radio school.

Frank has passed United States government examinations and secured an amateur radio first-class license and also radio telegraph second-class license. He is proficient in all lines of radio, but has not yet decided what branch of radio he will engage in. Frank says that the best paying positions are filled and that there are a dozen applicants for every place.

Port Arthur Radio school is said to be one of the best in the United States. The government at regular intervals furnishes examiners who go there to enable its pupils to stand the government tests for license.

SPECIAL MUSIC IS ENJOYED AT FIRST BAPTIST

Large audiences were noted in all services at the First Baptist church Sunday, when Dr. J. H. Cozad, the pastor, brought some fine messages. Sunday morning he spoke from the subject: "More Than Conquerors," receiving the closest attention from his audience. Miss Janet Miller was soloist in the service. The large church choir also sang an anthem under the direction of Miss Frankie Oates.

Sunday evening the large auditorium was again filled for the very enjoyable thirty-minute song service, led by Sunday School Superintendent C. M. Bryan. Several old-time sacred hymns were sung by the congregation while the junior choir, under the direction of Mrs. J. R. McCoy, gave several numbers. A feature of this service was the special music by a quartet composed of Prof. Otis Deaton, L. J. Hamrick, J. T. Williams and Miss Carrie Smith. Prof. Deaton is teaching singing in the city for a few weeks. The church choir rendered some very fine music during the service, with eighteen men in the choir. Mrs. Paul Wilson accompanied the numbers on the church pipe organ.

Dr. Cozad began a series of evangelistic messages with Sunday night's service, bringing his sermon from the subject, "The First Sin in the Garden or Paradise Lost." Each Sunday evening that he brings these messages, a thirty-minute song service will be heard. Everybody is invited to attend the inspirational services.

SISTER MRS. W. L. BRASWELL DIES IN SHERMAN

Funeral services for Mrs. E. L. Swaim, about 70, who died at her home in Sherman at 7:45 o'clock last Tuesday morning, were held at 1:00 o'clock last (Wednesday) afternoon at the family home on North Travis street. Interment followed in the Stiff Chapel cemetery, northeast of McKinney, in which community she was born and reared.

The deceased was, before her marriage, Miss Mary Stiff, daughter of the late Uncle Henry Stiff and wife of the Stiff Chapel community.

DAN I. DUDLEY PASSED AWAY AT HOME AT HEBRON

The following account of the recent death of Dan I. Dudley appeared in the Plano Star-Courier:

Dan I. Dudley, long-time resident, highly respected and esteemed citizen of this section, passed away at his home near Hebron Friday morning at 1 o'clock, following a several weeks' illness. He was 72 years, 2 months and 5 days old.

Funeral services were held in the Plano Baptist church Saturday afternoon, April 8, at 2 o'clock, conducted by the pastor, Rev. A. L. Leake. Interment followed in the Masonic section of the Mutual cemetery, at Plano. The members of the Plano Masonic lodge, of which the deceased had been a member for many years and of which he was a past Worshipful Master, had charge of the services at the grave.

Besides his widow, the deceased is survived by seven children, four daughters and three sons, as follows: Mrs. S. C. Stevens, St. Louis; Mrs. P. C. Willis and Mrs. R. T. Lucas, Shreveport; Miss Madge Dudley, at home; Rev. S. Dudley, prominent attorney at Ranger; Edison Dudley, Plano, and Dan Dudley, Jr., student in A. & M. college. He is also survived by one sister, Mrs. Nannie McCormick, of Hebron.

Mr. Dudley was born in Jackson county, Alabama, January 14, 1861. His father was killed in battle during the Civil war. His mother passed away when he was only eight years of age, and he and his sister were brought to Texas by their uncle, Nick Dudley, and wife, who resided in Southwest Collin, near the Denton county line. Uncle Nick and Aunt Sarah, his wife, later adopted Mr. Dudley and for 64 years he had been a resident of Plano, Southwest Collin and Southeast Denton counties.

On his twenty-fifth birthday he was married to Miss Mattie Felker.

For many years the family lived in Plano, Mr. Dudley having, for many years, been engaged in the grocery business. Later he served as postmaster for six or eight years, having received his appointment during President Woodrow Wilson's administration. He had also served Plano in an official capacity, as a member of the council, and was a member of the Plano Baptist church.

Some four or five years ago Mr. and Mrs. Dudley moved to their farm just over the line in Denton county.

Mr. Dudley was a high-class Christian gentleman, friendly and obliging, and leaves a large circle of friends and acquaintances to mourn his departure.

The pallbearers were nephews, as follow: Charles and Hugh McCormick, Austin; Roy and Robt. McCormick, Hebron, and Fee Griggs and C. J. Lowe of Dallas.

S. T. Jordan, a farmer of the Chambersville community, was visiting in the county seat Monday and called by this office to renew for the Weekly Democrat-Gazette [illegible]

BURIAL OF MRS. ANDERSON AT M'KINNEY

Funeral rites for Mrs. Laura Anderson, who died at her home here Tuesday, were held at the First Christian church Wednesday afternon at 3 o'clock, conducted by Dr. Claude M. Simpson, pastor of the First Methodist church, and assisted by Eld. R. C. Horn, veteran Christian minister of this city. The pastor of the deceased, Dr. Clifford S. Weaver, was out of the city. Favorite hymns of the deceased were given by the choir, Miss Frankie Oates being soloist. The services were concluded at Pecan Grove cemetery, where the remains were laid to rest beneath a mound of floral offrings, sent by sympathizing friends and relatives. The Isaac Crouch Funeral home had charge of funeral arrangements.

Active pallbearers were her grandsons and grandsons-in-law, as follows: Joseph Anderson of Austin, Dillon Anderson of Houston, Paul Oates of Dallas, Tom Rattan of Anna, Bob Humes and Reece Frisby of Chambersville.

The deceased had been ill only about three days preceding her death, having suffered a stroke of paralysis. She was 83 years, 10 months and 15 days old at the time of her passing. She was one of our city's most highly-esteemed women, having resided in or near McKinney practically all her life. She was born at Booneville, Mo., June 3, 1849, being a daughter of Chas. T. and Frances (Herndon) Fox. Her parents brought her to Texas when she was a small child. She was one of twelve children and the last to pass away.

She was a life-long member of the First Christian church.

The deceased was the mother of eleven children, only three of whom survive. Her husband, Joseph Alexander Anderson, preceded her to the grave, Feb. 17, 1899. The surviving children are: Joseph A. Anderson, who resides just south of the city limits; Mrs. W. D. Oates of McKinney and Mrs. E. C. Limbocker of Dallas.

Out-of-Town Visitors.

Several relatives and friends from out of town attended the obsequies, among them being: Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Van B. Oneal, Miss Emy Mortino, Mrs. A. Cotuns, Mrs. E. L. Smith, Mrs. H. I. Binkhead, Mrs. Paul Farley, Mrs. Jack Reeves, Mrs. E. V. Lineberry, and Paul Oates, all of Dallas, Dillon and Joseph Anderson of Houston.

OBSEQUIES OF THE LATE MRS. W. F. COOK

Largely attended funeral services for the late Mrs. W. F. Cook were held in the chapel of the C. C. Harris Funeral home Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, conducted by Rev. O. B. Darby of Eastland, Texas, and assisted by Rev. J. Ben Snider, local Baptist minister, and Rev. G. B. Bradshaw, pastor of the North Baptist church, this city, where the deceased held membership. Rev. Mr. Darby is a former pastor of this church, and spoke most tenderly as he eulogized the queenly Christian character of the deceased, who was one of our city's most highly respected and beloved ladies.

Interment was made in Pecan Grove cemetery, where many beautiful flowers covered the bier, mute tokens of the love and high esteem in which the deceased was held.

Active pallbearers were: T. J. Sparks, O. C. Dearing, Lynn Boorman, Sam T. Cook, Walter S. Cummins and James F. Arnold.

The deceased passed away at the City hospital here Tuesday afternoon, April 18, at 2:55 o'clock, having been a patient in that institution for the previous four weeks. She had been in frail health for the past several years. Her husband, W. F. (Frank) Cook, is one of our city's active business men.

The deceased was a native of Pulaski, Tenn., where she was born November 13, 1880. She came to Texas with her parents, when she was a young lady of 18 years, settling in Dallas. She was united in marriage to W. F. Cook, October 21, 1909, to which union one child, a daughter, was born. She is Miss Lucille Cook, who is now a sophomore in the North Texas State Teachers' college in Denton. She resided with her husband and daughter at their residence, 1312 North Coleman street.

NATIVE COLLIN COUNTY MAN HEADS TEXAS A. AND M. EX-STUDENTS ASSOCIA[TION]

T. Ben Warden of Dallas, graduate in the class of 1903, has been elected president of the Association of Former Students of A. & M. college, at the annual business meeting of the association just held at the closing event of a two-day program.

The new president is a prominent Dallas civil engineer, who was born and reared at or in McKinney where his mother, Mrs. F. M. Warden, is still living. He also has a brother and a sister living here—Henry W. Warden, vice president of the Collin County National bank, and Mrs. Gibson Caldwell, wife of the president of the Collin County Mill & Elevator company. He has many other relatives at McKinney and other points over this county and a host of friends. His nephew, James A. Caldwell Jr., of McKinney, a sophomore in Southern Methodist university, accompanied his uncle to A. & M. college for the ex-students' meeting.

This is a high honor for this former Collin county boy as the ex-students' association contains several thousand names. Many of these former A. & M. students are now among the most [prominent] men of the state in eve[ry] business and profession. [W]arden often comes up to [McKinney] to visit his relatives.

His brother, Maj. BLYTHES CHAPEL HOST TO JOY-MAKERS UNION

The Joy-Makers' Epworth League union held its monthly meeting Tuesday night at Blythe's Chapel, with one of the largest crowds in the history of the organization, present for the occasion. The South Wilcox Street Methodist church of this city again won the attendance banner.

Several special musical numbers were given by a mixed quartet from Lucas. Duets and solos were also enjoyed. Miss Geneva Talbot was in charge of the program and Miss Alta Francis, of McKinney, president of the union, had charge of the business meeting.

Plans were made for a joint meeting on the second Tuesday night in May to be held at Finch park in this city. Plans for a box supper in the near future were also discussed.

SUDAN GRASS FOR SUMMER PASTURES

"If farmers are short of pasture or a hay crop they should plant Sudan grass. Sudan grass does well in this county and affords plenty of grazing and abundance of hay," advises Farm Agent Jack McCullough.

"If the grass is to be planted in rows the land should be prepared similar to that of corn or cotton; and if it is to be broadcast, the land should be prepared the same as for grain. For hay in rows, plant from 5 to 10 pounds of seed per acre. For grazing purposes, it is better to use from 10 to 15 pounds per acre. If broadcast for hay, from 15 to 20 pounds of seed per acre should be planted. Planting in 2 to 3-foot rows has given better results for hay and grazing than by sowing broadcast. Planting in rows may be done with an ordinary planter and a sorghum plate.

Sudan grass should not be grazed until the plants are from 15 to 18 inches high. The grass should be harvested for hay, when the first heads appear. It is best to cut the hay with a mower and allow it to cure a day or two in the swath, then rake into windrows, and allow it to cure sufficiently dry for baling or to put into the stack or barn.

For harvesting the seed, a row binder is the most satisfactory machine to use.

FARM WAGES LOWEST NOW IN MANY YEARS

Farm hands are getting the lowest wages in thirty-three years. Day wages without board range from $2.10 in Massachusetts and Rhode Island to 55 cents in South Carolina, Georgia and Alabama, according to the bureau of agricultural economics.

There is usually a seasonal advance in farm wages during the spring planting season, but for three years past declining prices of farm products have more than offset the increase in demand for hired workers in the first quarter of the year. As never before farmers this season are doing their utmost to reduce out-of-pocket costs of production.

The bureau's index of farm wages was 72 on April 1, compared with a pre-war base of 100, whereas on April 1 a year ago, the index was 94. The supply of farm hands greatly exceeds the demand.

BLUE RIDGE FARMER FOR BETTER MULES

Kemp McCarley, living two miles east of Blue Ridge, had some stock printing done for his breeding barn by The Daily Courier-Gazette and The Weekly Democrat-Gazette job office. Mr. McCarley is a member of an old Northeast Collin family of early settlers. He is a thrifty, hard working farmer. He recognizes the growing scarcity of good work mules on the farms of this section of the state. Hence, he has secured a fine six-year-old black jack of good size and desirable qualities which he is caring for at his barn. He hopes his neighbors will take advantage of his use to help resupply their farms with more good work mules to operate with.

The prices of good farm work mules and horses are slowly but surely increasing. Mr. McCarley recommends that at least one good brood mare be kept on every farm. He says that there is no use of having to buy your work stock when by a little management and the use of his own energy a farmer can raise his own supply and then he knows just what kind of work stock he has on his place if he raises them himself.

FARM RESIDENTS PLEAD FOR A. & M. MONEY

Mrs. J. T. Grissom of Verona, Miss Mary Reeves of Bloomdale, R. G. Martin of Celina and Roy Roberts of McKinney returned home Tuesday afternoon from Austin. They were part of a huge crowd of 1,500 other Texas farm people appearing before the Texas legislature Tuesday. Spokesmen of the group of farm people declare there would be a virtual breakdown of much of the Texas A. & M. college farm program, if the forty-one per cent cut recommended by the house appropriations committee should be adopted.

The group left the house chamber, where they assembled before a joint session of the senate and the house for a hearing, with smiles because of the reception accorded them and the assurances they received of favorable consideration of their request.

Called by Jack Shelton of Luling, president of the Texas Agricultural Workers' association, and Mrs. Ben Anthony of Smith county, president of the Texas Home Demonstration association, which has a membership of more than 36,000 farm women, the group of farmers, farm women and 4-H club boys and girls made up the largest group of visitors to the legislative halls since the inauguration ceremonies in January. They came by automobiles and trucks for the most part. Prior to the hearing, which began at 1:30, they assembled in Wooldridge park and moved from there in a body to the capitol. Groups from the various counties bore placards with the names of their counties prominently displayed.

CROP PRODUCTION LOANS CLOSE ON APRIL 30

The period for making applications for crop production loans through the secretary of agriculture will close, April 30. All applications for loans must be in the hands of the field inspector by April 30, so announces W. R. Yeary, field inspector.

Loans will be made upon crops only as security, to those farmers who will agree to reduce their cotton and other cash crops acreages as much as 30 per cent under the amount grown on the same farm in 1932.

No loan will be made for less than $25 and none for more than $300. Landlords are required to waive all liens.

No loan will be made to a minor. Loans will be made to those who did not farm in 1932, but acreage of the farm will be basis of crop acreage, as to cash crops.

All farmers desiring or needing such loans should see their county committee or the secretary in their county who is taking applications. Name of secretary, and his office location for your territory is listed below.

All applicants are urged to plant plenty of food and feed crops for family use for a year and feed crops for the live stock on the farm for a year. Be sure to can, and can and can during the spring and summer. No matter how cheap groceries or feed may be, no man can buy them with cotton money, when cotton is as cheap as it is now. Put in a little money in your application for food containers, and be sure to save it and use it for that purpose.

This money is being loaned, and is not a gift or Santa Claus. It must be paid back. And it can be repaid in any sum from $1.00 up, at any time. Interest is charged only for the time you keep and use the money.

You may make application in Collin county at McKinney at county agent's office.

FREE SILVER PLAN IS VOTED BY SENATE

PRESIDENT AUTHORIZED TO REMONETIZE WHITE METAL

Washington, April 27.—Free coinage of silver Wednesday was written into the administration's monetary inflation legislation by the senate after a turbulent session which ended in an agreement to limit debate and thus hasten a final vote.

An amendment proposed by Senator Wheeler (Dem.), Montana, and Senator King (Dem.), Utah, was added to the measure to authorize the president to remonetize silver at any ratio to gold that he sees fit. The amendment provides also for free and unlimited coinage at that ratio.

The bimentallism clause was accepted by 41 to 26 after the provision of the inflation legislation authorizing the president to reduce the gold content of the dollar by as much as 50 per cent had been subjected to terrific opposition from Senator Borah, Idahos Republican independent, and Senator Robinson (Rep.), Indiana, ha dinjected the cash soldiers' bonus issue by offering an amendment to pay the war veterans out of the proposed $3,000,000,000 of new currency.

Democratic leaders joined in supporting the bimetallism amendment, which drew thirty-six Democrats to its banner, four Republicans and the lone Farmer-Laborite, Shipstead, of Minnesota. The four Republicans were Capper, Kansas; Cutting, New Mexico, Norris, Nebraska, and Nye, North Dakota.

Nineteen Republicans and seven Democrats opposed it, the latter being Bailey, North Carolina; Bulkley, Ohio; Copeland, New York; Gore, Oklahoma; Stephens, Mississippi; Tydings, Maryland, and Wagner, New York. It was the first test on the inflation proposal since it was taken up Monday as an amendment to the farm bill.

Glass Against Inflation.

After the vote Senator Reed (Rep.), Pennsylvania, leader of the opposition, moved to strike out the gold content reduction authorization and all amendments to it. This will be the pending amendment when the senate resumes Thursday under an agreement limiting each senator, beginning at 2 p. m., to thirty minutes of speaking.

Senator Robinson, the Democratic leader, proposed the debate-limiting agreement and there was no objection, although Robinson of Indiana refused to consent when the Arkansas senator previously made a similar motion, unless his bonus amendment were excluded from the limitation.

Senator Carter Glass (Dem.), Virginia, former secretary of the treasury and a conservative on money legislation, announced openly for the first time during the day that he would vote against the inflation plan, but was undecided whether to make a floor speech.

ONION PRICES ARE HIGHER AT LAREDO

With a good market demand and prospects that a re-survey of South Texas production will lower estimates and help prices, Bermuda onion growers in the Laredo section were encouraged this week, although prices remained around 60c to 65c per fifty-pound crate or bag for yellow Bermudas and 85c to 90c for white crystal wax. Prices were 10c a bag higher than the previous week. The Laredo district shipped 108 car loads last week, bringing total carlots to 134. Movement continues heavy from Raymondville, a total of 954 cars having been shipped this season against 640 in the entire season of 1932. First carlots moved from the winter garden and two cars have been shipped from the Coastal Bend area.

A new report on indicated South Texas onion production, the result of a petition by growers stating previous government estimates were too high by 2,500 car loads, was issued by Federal-State estimators Wednesday, April 26. G. D. Clarke, truck crop estimator, and Carl H. Robinson, senior agricultural statistician, made the re-survey last week. If the decreased yield claimed by growers is shown in the report, it is expected to help prices. Thrip and unfavorable weather have considerably reduced yields in some sections, it is believed.

M'KINNEY FRIEND MOURNS DEATH DAN I. DUDLEY

W. E. TALKINGTON AND DECEASED WERE PUPILS LATE SEN. WM. ALLEN

Our fellow townsman, Will E. Talkington, whose home is located on West Howell street, was greatly saddened at the news of the recent death of a schoolboy friend, Dan I. Dudley, which occurred near Hebron, near the Southwest Collin line.

Mr. Dudley, who was in his seventy-third year, was a Piano business man for many years and a highly-esteemed citizen, whose father, a Confederate soldier, was killed on one of the battlefields of the Civil war. His mother also died when he was only eight years old, and he and his sister were reared by an uncle, Nick Dudley and wife of Southwest Collin.

Mr. Dudley and Mr. Talkington when they were in their 'teens were pupils of the late Rev. William Allen at the later's academy ,near what is now the town of Frisco.

Mr. Talkington states that he and Mr. Dudley were the best of friends and school chums, who enjoyed themselves together on many occasions in their youthful days.

Their teacher, Rev. William Allen, was a noted Methodist minister as well as an educator and successful school man who was the tutor of many of our honored older citizens who were in the school age from fifty to sixty years ago. Rev. Mr. Allen was also a noted author; six or seven of his books are yet to be had from their publishers. For four years, he represented this district in the state senate. Senator Allen was at his death recognized as one of the most eloquent preachers, scholars, moral and political leaders in his section of the state.

Court of Honor Sponsored By Frisco Scouts

The Frisco troop of Boy Scouts enlarged its membership when the troop committee, composed of J. W. Elliott, R. W. Carpenter and Roy Northcutt, serving as a board of examiners, accepted eight boys as tenderfoot scouts. After passing the Court of Honor, the following boys were admitted to the troop: Benny Malone, Dale Watson, Beonice Elliott, Eugene Hays, Jack Northcutt, Jack Thomas, James Roy Kanaman and Wm. Clark.

The investiture ceremony which followed the Court of Honor was a very beautiful and solemn affair. The investiture was in pitch darkness, culminating with the candidates each in turn lighting white candles, signifying their intentions to live the pure life which is the ideal of scouting.

Donald Fisher, Samuel Sonntag, Jack Bergvall and Frank Montgomery came before a board of review and at some future date will go before the Court of Honor to receive their Tenderfoot badges.

An overnight hike is being planned for Friday, April 28, to be supervised by Mr. Talley, scoutmaster, and his assistants, Cargile Thomas, and J. B. Malone.

SEVENTH ANNUAL SHORT COURSE DENTON MAY 18

Two thousand guests from northeast counties are expected to attend a combined meeting for men and women of C. I. A.'s seventh annual short course and the annual field day of experiment station number 6 Friday, May 18, in Denton. The meeting will be held under the direction of the rural arts department of Texas State College for Women (C. I. A.) and the experiment station.

Prior to this year, separate dates have been chosen for the two meetings. Paul Dunkie, state experiment agent, and Fred W. Westcourt, C. I. A. arts instructor, are in charge of arrangements. Last year the short course had guests from twenty counties with a total atendance of approximately 1,050.

During the morning session all guests will be entertained on the C. I. A. campus where a picnic lunch will be served at noon. Following this, a diversified program featuring a study of the growth of small grains and sweet clover will be held for all men at the experiment station. Demonstrations, lectures and musical numbers will comprise the program for women guests.

One of the principal features of the short course is a hooked rug and mat contest sponsored by the Denton Home Demonstration clubs. The contest is open to any home demonstration club girl or women from counties having representatives in attendance. Prizes will be offered for the first and second best hooked mat of all silk or all cotton material and for the best collection of three or more mats. Rugs to be entered should be sent to Fred W. Westcourt, C. I. A., Denton, Texas.

YOUTH ON WAY TO WORLD'S FAIR VIA HORSEBACK

Riding his sole worldly possessions—two horses, called Chula and Tamali—Bernard Rattner, 19-year-old Harlengen, Texas, youth passed through McKinney late Monday afternoon en route to Chicago and the World's fair. He hopes to arrive there June 1. He informed these editors, in a brief stop here, that he and his father, a large orchard owner of the Rio Grande valley, lost everything they owned except these two farm horses in the depression. When he gets to Chicago he will enter the animals in the domestic animal show, and will also take part in the Texas exhibit there.

"I may return to Texas after the fair," he said, "but it won't be on horseback." The trip so far has cost him a penny a mile for the 700 miles that he has come out of the valley. The entire trip calls for from 1,800 to 2,000 miles. He said it was very cheap riding horseback, but that he knew of many more convenient ways to travel.

He left March 17, covering between 25 and 30 miles per day, but had to make 55 miles one day in coming out of the valley before he could reach water.

He has learned not to let traffic bother him. He rides on the shoulders of the road and doesn't have to get out of the way for cars.

The horses seemed to be in good spirits despite the long trip. Chula weighs 930 pounds and tamale, 725.

Mr. Rattner showed this editor a diary, which proved interesting, showing that he left Harlengen without any money whatsoever and that he expects to arrive in Chicago the same way, making only traveling expenses for himself and horses up there. He stopped with his two horses in front of this office, attracting a large crowd of spectators.

ROOSEVELT UPSETS ANOTHER CUSTOM; BARS INTERPRETER

Washington, April 25.—To the amazement of the tradition-following state department, President Roosevelt is abandoning the rule of having an interpreter in conversations with the French statesman, Edouard Herriot.

The state department tried to insist on it, but the determined president, who is proud of his ability to speak French, waved the interpreter aside to talk with M. Herriot.

Mr. Roosevelt said he didn't think his French was perfect, but he believed he and Herriot, who speaks a little English, could make themselves understood.

ROTARY CLUB ENTERTAINED BY GUEST SPEAKER

Dr. Samuel L. Joekel, prominent Austin minister and member of the faculty of the State University, in the capital city, was presented as speaker on the Rotary Club luncheon program Friday served in the dining room of the educational building of the First Churstian church.

Dr. Joekel is in McKinney for a ten-day meeting in which he is doing the preaching for Dr. Robert L. Cowan, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. His thirty minute talk to the Rotarians was one of the best the club has ever had the pleasure of listening to.

The theme of his talk was "Human Values" which he divided into fuor classes and discussed—material, intellectual, moral and spiritual. In his opinion our age is emphasizing these four values in their reverse ratio to what we should do. This practical age has placed the material far above the other three in interest and appreciation; then valuing next in order the intellectual, then moral and then spiritual, rather than beginning with the spiritual, the really most vital to man's welfare, both here and hereafter, and then appreciating next the moral, then intellectual and then the material.

In making his points he had a rich fund for anecdotes and stories to illustrate them and make them stick. Their aptness and humour caused his address to be punctuated almost at every turn with laughter and applause from his highly entertained and interested audience. Yet, the lessons that he sought to impress were sent home with telling effect, making a profound impression upon each Rotarian and guest on seriously thinking upon the really worth-while aspects of this transitory life.

Dr. Joekel is a profound preacher and a pleasing public speaker as well as a successful educator.

His talks at 10:00 o'clock in the morning and sermons at 7:30 each evening at the church are all appreciated by good sized, attentive audiences.

County Judge J. Frank Harrington introduced Dr. Joekel with whom he was a fellow student at the State University in their college days.

President H. H. Neilson voiced the appreciation of the club to the guest speaker of the day for his splendid address.

Song Leader W. Hammond Moore, with Mrs. Gibson Caldwell accompanying at the piano, got some more enthusiastic singing out of the club members preliminary to the speaking.

Dr. Robert L. Cowan was another guest at the luncheon who greatly enjoyed Dr. Joekels address.

Rotarian Howard S. Ware, director of programs for the year, announced that next Friday's program theme would be relative to some Collin County history with A. M. Russell and Walter B. Wilson in charge of the program. An interesting speaker will present some historical facts and traditions connected with our county history in its earlier beginnings. Rotarian Ware suggested that this subject should be of special interest to every club member and he prophesed that probably several visitors and teachers interested in the subect but not Rotarians, would be guests on that occasion to hear the talk.

Mrs. Bet Cook was chairman of the group of First Christian church ladies so graciously serving the enjoyable luncheon.

CHANCE CONVICTED FOR SLAYING, GETS 35-YEAR TERM

Fairfield, Texas, April 24.—Remanded to jail without bond, pending the passing of formal sentence on him, Clarence Chance faced a thirty-five-year term in the penitentiary after a jury in the district court here Sunday convicted him of murder for the killing of Dudley Williams, Dallas taxi driver.

Chance was the first of four men tried in connection with the shooting of Williams.

Court attaches said formal sentence probably would be passed Monday by Judge Lex Smith. Defense attorneys announced the case would be appealed.

Renders A Valuable Service

W. AVERY DOWELL
Prominent Local Business Man.

SET OF FARM BULLETINS ARE NOW AVAILABLE

W. Avery Dowell now has, in a bookcase available to the general public, fifteen volumes of bulletins that have been issued by the department of agriculture and its auxiliary activities from the very first to the present date.

This is the only complete list of bulletins of the kind in our county and, very likely in this section of the state. Mr. Dowell obtained this complete set of farm bulletins through the courtesy of Congressman Sam Rayburn, who recently sent them to him by special request. Mr. Dowell has gone to the expense of having them bound in book form, with attracootive backs and in a substantial way, making, as above stated, a total of fifteen handy volumes of well-bound red-backed books.

Mr. Dowell is having an index made for each volume, showing the subject mater of its contents on every phase and slant of agriculture that government research has explored and made experiments on, including variety of crops for various sections, proper selection of seeds, preparation of soil, cultivation, harvesting, injurious crop insects and parasites and how to combat them, farm agency projects and activities, textile manufacturing farm engineering and architecture, home economics activities in its varied phases, etc., etc.

He will present a complete index of these fifteen volumes to County Farm Agent Jack McCullough and another to County Home Demonstration agent, Miss Helen Dunlap and also another to the county judge and Commissioners' court, so that any farm man, woman, boy or girl, who wishes to consult government authority on any phase of farm life treated by the department of agriculture may consult one of these indexes, find the desired bulletin, and then go to the J. P. Dowell store and turn to it immediately without any trouble or searching and post themselves on the particular subject in which they are interested.

This is one of the most practical and far-reaching, unselfish services and philanthropies that W. Avery Dowell has ever done for our county, and for twenty-five years he has been giving much of his time and means in a civic way to the public welfare, especially as relating to country and farm life of our county. He was for several years president of the McKinney Chamber of Commerce, about six or seven years president of the Collin County Fair association and had a large part in inducing the county to participate in the county farm agency and home demonstration agency work for the women as offered through the extension service of the Texas A. & M. college, in co-operation with the federal government through the department of agriculture at Washington, D. C.

Mr. Dowell cordially invites any farmer, farm woman, 4-H club girl or club boy or any resident of McKinney or of any other town or village in the county, who may be interested, to come to his store at your convenience to inspect these volumes and make full use of their valuable information thus provided free of cost to you or trouble to any one else in your desire to better inform yourself. Untold benefits to our county at large are possible from this thoughtful generosity of Mr. Dowell.

ONLY WAY OUT DEPRESSION AS TILSON SEES IT

T. J. Tilson, former Texas legislator now of Plainview, but formerly of Merit on the Collin-Hunt county line, says money control by banking interests instead of by congress is at the bottom of the depression. Mr. Tilson is one of the best posted farmers of the state. He has many old friends in this section of the state He says:

SEES JUST ONE WAY OUT OF DEPRESSION

This depression is a man-made tragedy, true, and that our government has aided, abetted and encouraged it is equally true. There was no occasion or necessity of it ever to have come on the country. There is not an informed man in congress or out of it, but that knows that the taking out of circulation of large volumes of our circulative medium, the life's blood of commerce, is responsible mainly for the trouble.

This was made possible by the surrender of the making and control of the money of the nation by congress, where the constitution placed it, into the hands of selfish and designing financiers and banking institutions. It is an axiomatic fact that the man or set of men who control the money of a country control its destiny. Therefore is in the hands of a few big financial vampires and buccaneers who are using this ill-gotten power to oppress the masses of the people. And no one knows this any better than congress and the president. And these powers are resorting to every miserable subterfuge known to the ingenuity of man to hoodwink the people into the belief that they are trying to relieve the the people of their distress.

They know, and have acknowledgd that the people must have more money in cicrulation. They are pretending to supply that need by borrowing it from these financial Wall street vampires and taxing the life out of the people to pay it back, as if they could hope to relieve them by piling additional and intolerable burdens upon them. When they ought to know that we are already bankrupt. The power to relieve this terrible condition in sixty days is placed in the hands of our president and representatives by the constitution, which says that congress, not the Federal Reserve banks, has power to make and coin money and regulate its value. And the Supreme court of the United States has declared that it can make it out of any material or fabric it chooses.

But what does congress care for the constitution or the Supreme court. Its mission is to do the bidding of its master, the Wall street pirates. In the language of one Vanderbilt, "The people be damned." These are hard but true sayings. It looks as if there was no remedy except for the people to organize solidly and demand that these recalcitrant men whom they have elected under the promise of relief do their duty or come down from a position they are in no wise worthy to hold.

Nothing that this Democratic administration is doing is designed or claimed to be permanent, but only temporary relief. And as long as the power of control over the money, the life's blood of commerce, ... there is no hope of permanent relief.

Democracy and the Democratic party in the United States is fast becoming a hiss and a by-word. Equal rights to all men, and special privileges to none, has ceased to be the vaunted watchword and proud motto of the once grand old party. They have trodden underfoot the fundamental principles of democracy.

The Democrats have clothed their chief with autocratic power, thereby acnowledging their incompetency, and he with doubtful constitutional authority commands his subjects to bring their hard-earned gold, laid by for a rainy day or old age, and pour it into the coffers, that Wall street may have increased power to oppress the masses, or more likely to influence, induce and assist England ...

J. ED M'GEE LIVESTOCK MAN AND FARMER

J. Ed McGee, a thrifty farmer of the Fitzhugh Mills community, is the owner of a fine four-year-old black registered Percheron stallion that is making the season at his farm this year.

This animal is showing some exceptionally good colts, and Mr. McGee thinks he is just the kind of a sire that is most needed in this farming country to produce the best sort of work horses and mares needed on our farms.

Mr. McGee also owns several good mares, two of them being Percherons and one of them being recently from the farm of B. D. Rodgers of Fayburg.

Mr. McGee also gives attention to registered Jersey cattle of the very best type, also sheep and hogs.

Mr. McGee is of the opinion that now is the best time that he ever saw to develop a good registered Jersey herd. Market prices are lower than they have ever been with indications of rapid improvement again.

Mr. McGee is one farmer who believes in raising plenty of feed and feedstuff and selling what you raise through well-bred live stock fed on the farm, where it is grown.

Mr. McGee's wife was formerly County Home Demonstration agent for ten or twelve years. Perhaps there is no woman in the county better known or more generally beloved than Mrs. Viola Poole McGee, his wife.

REFORESTATION PLANS ARE DESCRIBED

Secretary W. Hammond Moore of the McKinney Chamber of Commerce is in receipt of a letter from Lawrence Westbrook, director of the Texas Relief Commission, of Austin, giving further details concerning the governmental reforestation program.

The reforestation program in this county will be handled by the local Chamber of Commerce through the county relief committee. Work of enlisting men in this phase of governmental work will be handled here just as soon as application blanks are received.

Following is the letter received by Secretary Moore from Mr. Westbrook:

Mr. W. Hammond Moore,
McKinney Chamber of Commerce.
McKinney, Texas.
Dear Sir:

Enrollment in the emergency conservation work, generally called reforestation, will be confined to able-bodied unmarried men between the ages of 18 and 25, who have dependents, and are at present on the relief rolls of their respective counties. These regulations are tentative and there may be a slight change.

Enrollment will be carried out by the county relief committee and complete instructions will be sent them from this office, just as soon as such instructions are received by us from Washington. Texas quota is 11,750 men. Each county will have a quota based on its total population.

Very Truly Yours,
LAWRENCE WESTBROOK.

Dr. Miller Leaving For Kerrville

Dr. Bryce Miller, local McKinney eye, ear, nose and throat specialist, is leaving McKinney to locate at Kerrville, Texas. He will take over the practice of the late Dr. Wm. Woods, a successful specialist of that place.

Dr. Miller says that it is very difficult for him to make this move away from McKinney, since he regrets leaving so many fine McKinney friends and loyal patients.

Mrs. Miller and their two daughters, Janet and Constance, will remain here until about August 1. They are living at the apartments of Mrs. J. M. Andrews on South Benge street.

ESTABLISHED FEBRUARY 7, 1884. McKINNEY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, APRIL 27, 1933.—SECOND SECTION. FIFTIETH YEAR

JUDGE WILCOX GIVES CHARGE TO GRAND JURY

The April term of Fifty-Ninth District court got under way here Monday morning with selection of the grand jury, delivering of the charge to the jury by Judge F. E. Wilcox, and setting of the docket. The April term will continue eight weeks.

Judge Wilcox presided, while grand jurors were sworn in by District Clerk L. A. Sears as follows:

H. S. Davis, McKinney, foreman.
Ed Blakeman, McKinney.
J. E. Coffey, Frisco.
Grady Giles, Anna.
Walter Haggard, Plano.
John Wester, Weston.
Grover C. Dixon, Blue Ridge.
S. O. Miller, Princeton.
Tine Kerby, Farmersville.
J. A. Pitts, Wylie.
R. R. Addington, Clear Lake.
W. F. Cornes, Farmersville.

Fifteen of the sixteen grand jurors summoned, appeared for service. They were commended for their patriotism by Judge Wilcox. Twelve of the fifteen were retained, Halsell S. Davis of McKinney being appointed foreman. Gid Dowlen was appointed door bailiff and constables of the county were riding bailiffs, as follows:

John S. Record, McKinney.
Paul Yeager, Nevada.
R. E. McHone, Anna.
John Cowherd, Plano.
Chas. Akin, Blue Ridge.
Paul Akin, Farmersville.
S. L. Betty of Weston.

Delivers Charge.

In his charge to the grand jury, Judge Wilcox said: "You now constitute the grand jury for this term of court. You have a high and honorable position, with a great deal of responsibility. You represent the majesty and the dignity of the law. In fact, you are the law, for without your sanction no man can be indicted for a felony offense."

He stated that in the dawn of civilization mankind lived in underground passages with no law except the law that "might makes right." They confiscated property at will, making those weaker than themselves their slaves. There was no peace, no sanctity of the home, no happiness. However, when they realized that they needed protection and that they must be secure in person, liberty and property, they formed federations. Thus began civilization; thus was law and government established.

Crime On Increase.

Judge Wilcox urged the lawmakers to investigate every crime of a felony nature and when they had reasonable grounds to believe a man guilty to return an indictment and let it be threshed out in the court. He decried the fact that in this day and time crime is on the increase instead of the decrease. He referred to a Dallas News eidtorial Sunday which stated that nearly 60 per cent of all of the crime of the country is committed by young men under 29 years, while much of it is done by youths under 21. It was his belief, he said, that a lot of this goes back to the parents, because children are largely influenced by their parents. He urged his hearers to take for example the number of auto thefts committed by young men. Forty-five per cent of all auto thefts are committed by young men under 19 years of age. This is caused because a majority of the parents let their children leave home at night—and a majority of them never know where their children are.

"Law enforcement needs the cooperation of the parents of this land, in order to prevent, and not merely to punish, crime, Judge Wilcox said that it is a sad day when parents must leave to law enforcement agencies the correction of their own children.

Many Attornies Present.

Among the local attorneys seen in the courtroom were: Hons. Wallace Hughston, John Doyle, H. S. Davis, A. M. Wolford, L. J. Truett, L. C. Clifton, T. O. Murray, John Reese, County Attorney W C. Dowdy, Assistant County Attorney Leon O. Moses, W. R. Abernathy, W. P. Abernathy, Grover Burton, Mort W. Muse, R. S. Moulden, H. H. Neilson, G. R. Smith, Ted Sisco, and others, of this city. Out-of-town attorneys were W. Fred Duncan of Wylie, Lloyd Harry of Farmersville and Judge H. M. Wade of Rockwall.

CASE TRIO OF SHERMAN HERE SUNDAY NIGHT

Sunday was a most enjoyable day for members of the First Methodist church with large crowds attending all services. Since this was the fourth Sunday, at which a special missionary program is given at the close of the Sunday school hour, Miss Dorajean Davis, daughter of County Commissioner Don O. Davis and wife, gave a reading "Immortality" which was greatly enjoyed by the large audience hearing her. Mrs. E. L. Burton is chairman of these fourth Sunday missionary programs.

Dr. Claude M. Simpson brought the morning message, while the church choir gave special music.

At the evening hour, the Case Trio of Kidd-Key College in Sherman were guests of the church, and brought a splendid program of music. Prof. George E. Case, head of the organ department of Kidd-Key college, was organist while the other artists assisting in the program were: Mr. Cockerham, bass soloist; Miss Margaret Hunter, soprano soloist; Miss Hunter, first soprano; Miss Erline Field, alto and Miss Louise Niell, second soprano, composing the trio. Mrs. L. D. Robinson of this city, but formerly of Sherman, a former member of the Case trio, had a part in the closing number of Sunday evening's program.

The program given included "Prelude," "Sextet," Donizetti. The numbers given by the trio were "Sanctus" by Dudley Buck; "Prayer Perfect" by Stinson; "Blessed are the Merciful" by Hiles and "Peace I Leave With You" by Case. Mr. Cockerham sang, "From the Depths" while Miss Hunter sang "In the Hour of Trial." Prof. Case gave "Legende" from Cadman as an offertory.

SEVERAL BLUE RIDGE STORES ARE LOOTED

Local officers are working in an effort to clear up a series of recent robberies at Blue Ridge, in the northeast part of the county. Sheriff G. J. S. Walker says that the most recent robbery occurred there Thursday night when the J. O. Nelson dry goods and drug store was looted of stock worth approximately $150. Entrance to the building was gained through a rear door. A crowbar was left on the fountain by the robbers.

Officers working on the case, in addition to Sheriff Walker, are Constable C. C. Akins and Deputy Constable Doc James.

Sheriff Walker says that two garages, two grocery stores and a cafe have recently been looted in that Northeast Collin town.

WILL HOLD CITY CHAMPIONSHIP GOLF TOURNEY

The first annual city championship golf tournament, being sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, will commence on April 28, at the Hill Crest Country club.

In an effort to accomplish three things, namely, (1) to help to furnish work for some of the unemployed of McKinney; (2) create more interest in the Hillcrest Country club, which they consider an asset to the citizenship of McKinney, and (3) to provide pleasure and diversion and promote fellowship among all classes of golfers, the Junior Chamber of Commerce has undertaken to stage this tournament.

Every player entering the tournament will be required to agree to use a caddy each time he plays, whether in the qualifying round or match play. The caddies will be drawn from a list of the unemployed of McKinney, furnished by the Reconstruction Finance corporation headquarters here. Each caddy will work for two players at once, and will receive as compensation 25c from each or 50c per round. This will be compulsory on the players, and, in this way, it is expected employment will be furnished to nearly fifty men off and on for the next three weeks.

The work, of course, will not be difficult, but will certainly be clean and wholesome and the caddy will have earned his pay by the time the round is finished. The Junior Chamber of Commerce, in conjunction with the McKinney office of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, will make all arrangements for the players keeping in touch with the caddies.

Qualifying Round.

The qualifying round of nine holes will be played between Friday and Monday, April 28 to May 1. Cards must be turned in to the committee. The tournament will be played in three flights, and the entrants will be placed in one of these flights, according to the score made on the qualifying round. For instance, the thirty-two players shooting the lowest score will probably compose the first flight and so on.

Play will be match play in twosomes. The first round will start on Monday, May 1.

Prizes will be as follows: To the winner of the first flight, a loving cup presented by the Junior Chamber of Commerce; to the winner of the second flight, a three months' free green fee at the country club, and to the winner of the third flight, a free picture show ticket book, donated by Roy L. Brockman.

Co-operation Asked.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce urges all men in McKinney of what ever age and experience as a golfer, to enter into the spirit of the tournament, enter when asked to do so, and having entered to play each match until eliminated. Otherwise the plan can not be successful. They are counting on the full co-operation of a big majority of the citizens, both as caddies and players.

The committee in charge of the tournament is composed of Earl Walker, first vice president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, chairman; Elton Riggs, Dr. Lloyd Thomas, Hansford Ray and Lovejoy Comegys.

Mrs. Jimmie Dale continues quite ill in the City hospital, where she has been a patient the past few days.

Big Orchard Thrives In Collin Soil

"Who said you couldn't have a good orchard in this black land?" asks W. M. Allen, a tenant farmer living on the farm of Jas. M. Muse, one and one-half miles north of McKinney.

Mr. Allen declares any farmer can have a good orchard if he tries. He appreciates the co-operation and encouragement received from his landlord, Mr. Muse, in growing this orchard.

Mr. Allen took a ten-acre tract of land that was sold in Johnson grass and washed badly, and has grown a beautiful orchard in its place. He has 300 peach trees, between 2 and 4 years old; 100 plum trees, 16 pear trees, 48 grapevines and 20 apple trees. He keeps his orchard in fine condition. He prunes, sprays and cultivates his trees.

Mr. Allen invites you to visit the orchard, and see for yourself what can be done on washed hillside land that was sold in Johnson grass—the condition of this ten-acre tract before he planted his orchard.

Woodchoppers Defeat Cotton Mill, 3-2

Behind the superb pitching of Winfrey Dickenson former McKinney high star and Alvin (Lanky) Stewart, the W. O. W. Woodchoppers defeated the Cotton Mill lads at the Cotton Mill park by a score of 3-2. The Woodchoppers were scheduled to go to Sherman for an exhibition game but the Sherman officials wired that their field was too muddy and the Cotton Mill game was scheduled.

Dickenson appeared to have as much stuff as ever and struckout several batsmen. He was one of the pitchers on the old McKinney High Lions bi-state championship teams of 1928-1929. He will remain with the Woodchoppers throughout the season in the Red River Valley loop, which will open here soon.

Addington of the W. O. W. clouted two doubles to gain hitting honors of the day.

Miss Helen Dunlap, home demonstration club agent, visited her club at Mesquite Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Powell of this city visited Mr. and Mrs Warren Christie in Frisco.

Misses Ethel Biggerstaff and Flossie Ranshay of Frisco were visitors in McKinney.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Johnson and children of this city were dinner guests of Mrs. A. W. Martin in Frisco.

Mrs. Mary Montgomery, Miss Annie Cramar and Lucille McIntire of Frisco recently visited Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cramar, who reside near McKinney.

Charlie Wysong, who attends State university at Austin, spent the week-end with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Wysong, in this city.

J. H. Harrington of Plano, who has been a patient in the city hospital for several days, continues to show improvement. He is the father of County Judge J. Frank Harrington of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Watson and son, F. M., Jr., of Frisco, were in Dallas to attend the bedside of Mrs. Watson's brother, who was hit by a truck several days ago. He is reported in a serious condition.

Mrs. Carl McDonald and pretty little daughter, Anna, have returned to their home in McKinney from Muskogee, Okla., where they have been visiting the past three weeks with their parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Statley.

Duer Burton, wife and fine little son, Billie Duer, of Fort Worth, spent Saturday night with Mr. Burton's parents in Van Alstyne. Sunday they came to McKinney to spend the day and night with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Burton, returning to their home in Fort Worth Monday morning.

Seeks U. S. Marshalship

ED BLAKEMAN of McKinney

M'KINNEY MAN SUITED FOR U. S. MARSHAL

Former Sheriff Ed Blakeman of McKinney is an applicant for appointment as United States marshal for the eastern district of Texas.

Mr. Blakeman's friends are legion in this county where he has been elected four times as sheriff and made the county a most excellent official in that position for a period of eight years. Prior to that he was deputy sheriff and prior to that served as constable. Therefore, by training and experience he is qualified as few men are for the United States marshalship that he is seeking.

Mr. Blakeman looks every inch the part of a sheriff or United States marshal from the standpoint of physique. He is six-foot, two inches tall, erect, square-shouldered and weighs 208 pounds. His personality radiates cheerfulness, respect, confidence and good will. A smile invariably wreathes his face as he goes about life contacting people regardless of what he is doing, and he has a genial handclasp and a friendly word of greeting for everybody. He has the natural turn of ingratiating himself into the good will and confidence of the public and, dealings with him, back up and confirm these first impressions of a new acquaintance.

These editors and the multitude of friends of Ed Blakeman throughout our county and state would be happy to see him receive the desired appointment because of his peculiar fitness for same and his tactfulness in dealing with his fellow man, especially those who have become entangled in the toils of the law and if not dealt with firmly and at the same time tactfully sometimes cause more or less serious trouble in the administration of the law. Mr. Blakeman knows how to handle them in an effective way, yet without the show of too much force or the necessity of gunplay and the use of the big brutal stick. In fact, we don't think that we ever heard of Ed Blakeman, while constable, deputy sheriff, or while filling the office of sheriff itself, ever having to hurt a man, although he has been called on lots of times to round up some rather desperate characters. He knows how to use persuasion and gentlemanly tactics in getting prospective prisoners to peacefully submit themselves without physical resistance to the carrying out of the mandates of the law. He is a natural born getnleman anyway you take him and commands respect in whatever roll he is called on to serve.

SOMEONE WILL ENJOY FREE TRIP TO WORLD'S FAIR

Interest in the Ritz theater "Greater Movie Club" campaign, which was started here last week, is now reaching a high pitch with a large number of entrants working for the $500 in prizes, including a first prize of $100 or a trip to the World's Fair, at Chicago; a second prize of $50 and a third prize of $25. In all, eleven awards will be made.

Those who wish to enter the contest—and there is still plenty of time left—may do so by calling by to see Manager Roy L. Brockman of the Ritz, who will explain the contest rules.

Entry blanks, good for 1,000 votes which have been appearing in The Daily Courier-Gazette and coupons for 10 votes each also printed in this paper may be sent to the Ritz, where they will be credited to your standing. The 1,000 entry blank vote is good for one entrant.

Either your own name or the name of a friend may be entered. Entrants must be 18 years old or over.

Manager Brockman says that he is finding much interest in this contest.

The prizes are excellent, and he is expecting the campaign to create much interest in the icty and county.

THUNDERSHOWERS FALL HERE PAST WEEK-END

Scattering April thundershowers fell Saturday night and Sunday afternoon in McKinney and immediate vicinity, measuring .55 of an inch, according to E. Pearl Skelton, local government volunteer weather observer.

The rain was not general over the county, however, several Collin communities reporting no rain at all over the past week-end.

The rain was accompanied by a slight northerly breeze, but the lowest temperature recorded was 58 degrees at 7 a. m. last (Monday) morning, which dawned with only a few scattering clouds on the horizon, giving promise of an ideal spring day.

The rain was gladly welcomed in the communities where moisture fell. Crops needed a shower, according to farmers in McKinney Monday.

M'KINNEY 25 Years Ago

From The Files of The Daily Courier-Gazette

(April 24, 1908.)

J. T. Davis, who lives on his farm one and a half miles northwest of Princeton, while in town today, reported a heavy hailstorm about five o'clock on his farm and vicinity last evening. The hail belt was about three-quarters of a mile wide and five miles in length. Some of the hailstones were as large as hen eggs. In some places it was two or three inches deep on his farm. It very badly damaged young corn, cotton, onions, alfalfa, garden and fruit and also roofs of buildings.

The first through special train on the interurban was run from McKinney to Dallas last evening in charge of J. E. Lewis, superintendent, of the Fred A. Jones Construction company, who acted as conductor. Ben Wells was at the throttle and Mr. Wooldridge put coal into old Number 4. About seventy-five were on the returning train to Dallas, including Mayor Doggett and his official family of McKinney. It required a little more than two hours to make the trip.

THURSDAY, APRIL 27, 1933.

This is the season to clean up your premises, both for looks and sanitation. A little paint also greatly helps.

Early spring gardens are a great help. Their products are now being enjoyed on almost every family table in both city and country life in this section of the South.

South Texas Bermuda onion production is one-third less this year than last. The Collin county acreage is also considerably under what it was last year. These reductions may mean a little better market for Collin onion growers this summer.

Rural districts of the United States have good roads, autos, telephones, radios, home lighting system, vacuum cleaners, washing machines, up-to-date heating systems and numerous labor saving appliances and devices. Country life has been robbed of much of its drudgery in recent years.

Many more sheep are to be seen on the farms of this county in a drive over it than were noticeable a few years ago. Sheep breeding is an important branch of successful farming in this blackland district the same as elsewhere over the state. A few sheep on your farm means less weeds to fight. A neat, clean farm is much easier to own with a few sheep in the pasture.

Tomato juice is fast increasing in demand on the world market. This is to the distinct advantage of Texas that produces the finest quality of tomatoes. Much of the crop annually perishes, but the sharp increase in tomato juice demand will materially change this condition in the future. The 1932 pack of this product was about a third larger than in 1931.

Those who own land should not let it wash away. This can be prevented by terracing it so that the oncoming generations will find it in as good a condition and as productive as when the land was first brought under cultivation. There is no excuse for the present generation to deprive posterity of soil fertility by our neglect or indifference. Every generation should transmit our farms to the succeeding generation really in a better condition than they received them.

Ten husky, young future farmers of America from this city participated in the recent judging contests at the Texas A. & M. College. These boys are pupils in the vocational agriculture class of the McKinney High school under Prof. J. T. (Doc) Rollins. Each of these boys were selected for the McKinney team on merit alone. They gave a good account of themselves. These boys are receiving practical training in school that will help them earn livelihoods when grown and on their own resources. We are strong for vocational agriculture.

Collin farm women and girls canned immense stores of surplus foods last year that is now saving grocery bills. Accurate reports from 122 of the 254 counties of Texas reveal that home grown food canned or otherwise preserved amounted in value last year to more than $3,600,000. These counties use for this purpose nearly 50,000,000 tin cans and glass jars. In addition to this, 3,500,000 pounds of fruits or vegetables were dried or preserved in brine. According to the A. & M. Extension estimate, about eighty-five per cent of the canned food put up last year was of fruit and vegetables. The remainder was meats.

SALT OF THE EARTH.

No truer words were ever spoken than these once said by former Gov. John M. Slaton of Georgia: "No country ever lasts long without a country people. They afford the strength of the church; they maintain the sacredness of the family tie; they supply the reverence for eternal principles not to be found in congested communities. They think for themselves and no temporary fad sweeps them from the paths of truth. From them comes the strong fresh blood that dominates and enriches commerce, industry and the professions."—Donley County Leader.

A NEEDED LAW.

Two measures intended to maintain the per capita school apportionment at its present figure are pending at Austin. One would make seven years, instead of six, the minimum age for enrolling. The other would have apportionment on the actual enrollment instead of on scholastic population.

Under the existing law, a school district gets a stated amount for each child of scholastic age in the district, regardless of what its enrollment is. A district with 2,000 children of school age, but with only 500 of them attending school, gets as much money as a district with 2,000 children of whom 1,950 are attending. Thus the counties in which there are many Mexican and negro residents get a much larger share of the state's money than they are entitled to get, for usually there is a wide gap between scholastic population and actual attendance in such counties. There is no good reason why a district should collect for children who are not in school, but that is the law.

A county like our own, whose school attendance is high in proportion to the scholastic population, would benefit by the proposed change. The pending bill is a common sense one, and should be passed. Attendance, not the number of children of school age, is the only fair basis for the apportionment.—Wichita Falls Times.

FARM RELIEF SET-UP.

It is perhaps fitting that the Federal Farm Board, which is responsible in four years for losses of $350,000,000 should be the first important Federal agency to feel the impact of President Roosevelt's economy axe. Under an executive order the board's name disappears, and it is replaced by that of the farm credit administration. Of the original salaried membership of eight, only the chairman, Henry Morganthau Jr., survives. The new administrative body takes over, or supervises the functions of the Federal land banks, the special farm loan granted by the Department of Agriculture and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and the Federal Farm Board. The authority conferred on the farm board by the agricultural marketing act to subsidize price-stabilization corporations is abolished.

The wisdom of grouping these financing units under one leader is obvious. A hint of the savings to be effected is seen in President Roosevelt's order that $2,000,000 authorized for expenditure of the old units be returned to the Treasury. Less apparent, however, until the text of the order is studied in connection with the laws creating former agencies, is the reaction on the powers possessed by the Secretary of Agriculture. Under the agricultural marketing act, this cabinet officer had integral connection with the operations of the farm board. Under the new presidential order, "the functions of the Secretary of Agriculture as member of the Federal Farm Board are abolished."

The governor of the new farm credit administration—Mr. Morganthau—becomes the dictator in that field and is responsible chiefly to the President. He thus becomes the rival of the Secretary of Agriculture in influence, though lacking the prestige of a cabinet position.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

FUNERAL OF MRS. WOLFORD HELD AT TERRELL

(Terrell Tribune, April 17.)

What was to have been a joyous homecoming and happy Easter reunion with her aged mother, Mrs. J. F. Elliott, of this city and other relatives of Terrell and McKinney after an absence of four years, was turned into the black pall of tragedy for relatives and death to Mrs. Mary Wolford of Los Angeles, whose body arrived here Sunday afternoon, following a fatal accident near Bisbee, Ariz. last Wednesday morning. The auto in which she was making the trip to Texas with friends, plunged over an embankment. Mrs. Wolford was killed instantly.

The body was accompanied from Bisbee by Rudolph Wolford, husband of deceased. Dr. James Elliott, brother of Mrs. Wolford joined Mr. Wolford in Dallas and accompanied him to this city. The body was taken to the Anderson-Clayton Bros.' mortuary, from which it was later removed to the home of Mrs. Wolford's mother, Mrs. J. E. Elliott, 301 East College street, where the funeral was held at 10 o'clock this morning.

Rev. W. P. Harmon, pastor of the Christian church, conducted the funeral service. The following were pallbearers: W. J. Davis, W. W. Cain, Lester Jackson, H. C. Dinkins, Otto Abernethy, S. A. Welborn. Burial was in Oakland Memorial park, a large concourse of sorrowing friends and relatives following the body to its last resting place. The grave was hidden with the great wealth of beautiful floral offerings.

Mrs. Wolford was the only daughter of the late H. T. Elliott, and Mrs. J. E. Elliott. She is survived by her husband, Rudolph Wolford, of Los Angeles; her mother, Mrs. J. E. Elliott, of this city, and three brothers, J. P. Elliott of Terrell, Dr. J. H. Elliott of Dallas and L. L. Elliott of McKinney.

The following relatives and friends from out of town were in attendance upon the funeral: Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Elliott of McKinney, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. Al Joyce, Mrs. J. V. Elmore, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Burrus, Mr. and Mrs. Kamp McGinnis, Luther Welborn, Dallas; Mrs. L. J. Hudson, Miss Frances Hudson, Mr. Al Jenson, Fort Worth, and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Elliott of McKinney.

* * *

Account of the Accident.

Mrs. Wolford left Los Angeles last Tuesday morning with a party of friends, all of them bound for Texas, their former home. They had reached a point 22 miles west of Bisbee, when the auto in which they were riding missed a turn in the road and plunged over the embankment. Mrs. Wolford met instant death and other occupants were more or less injured. The injured were: Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Watson, 1110 Richmond street, Los Angeles, and their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Watson. The elder Watson was said to have been driving the car at the time of the accident. He said that the glare of the rising sun hid the road from view and occasioned the accident. All the injured were able to return to their Los Angeles home a short time after the accident. The car was demolished. The Watsons were en route to Beaumont, Texas, to visit the old home. Mrs. Wolford was to have accompanied them as far as Dallas, thence coming to her former home in Terrell.

Mr. Wolford, a business man of Los Angeles, first heard of the accident to his wife over the radio and hastened to Bisbee, to which point the body was removed after the accident and brought the remains to this city for burial.

G. L. Randal and R. M. Rutledge, of Dallas, representing Moore and company, came to McKinney Wednesday afternoon to attend the funeral of Mrs. Frank Cook.

James P. Derryberry of College Station, Texas, is visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Derryberry, who reside in the Lovejoy community, southeast of McKinney.

Mrs. R. Rambo is having some substantial improvements made on her big two-story home, corner of East Hunt and North Chestnut streets. Mrs. Rambo's yard and garden make it one of the beauty spots of the residential sections of our city.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Burgess of Dallas attended Mrs. Frank Cook's funeral in McKinney Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Burgess is credit manager for Buell Lumber and Manufacturing company of Dallas.

FATHER OF MRS. BYRON HOPE DIED FRIDAY

Friends in McKinney were saddened Friday, April 21, by the announcement of the death at 4:00 o'clock that afternoon of J. E. Pendleton, 52 years, 10 months and 15 days, which occurred in a hospital at Wichita Falls, where he had been a patient for the last three or four weeks. The home of the deceased was at Farmersville, but during the cotton season for the past seven or eight years, he was in the habit of spending his time principally at Munday, Knox county in West Texas, where he conducted a cotton business and helped look after gins at that and several other points in that section of Texas. He had been in ill health since March 20, 1931, spending much of the time since then in hospitals, including several months at McKinney.

* * *

Native of Collin County.

James Eldridge Pendleton was born June 6, 1880, at Farmersville in East Collin where his father, the late Col. E. H. Pendleton, was an early settler and prominent business man. The deceased was reared and educated there and at the A. & M. College of Texas. He was a successful business man, devoting most of his time and energies to the cotton business, cotton ginning and cotton seed oil mill operation. But, for several years, he also served as president of the First National bank at Farmersville, retiring from that position on account of ill health a little more than a year ago. He is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Blanche Dunn, and by three children, Mrs. Byron Hope of McKinney, Miss Madge Pendleton and J. E. Pentleton Jr., both at home, also by three brothers and two sisters as follows: W. F. Pendleton, Dallas; H. A. Pendleton, Munday; George C. Pendleton, Durant, Oklahoma; Mrs. R. E. Phillips and Mrs. O. E. Carlisle, both of Farmersville.

Burial at Farmersville.

The remains were conveyed to Farmersville, the lifelong home of the deceased, where funeral services were held at 3:00 o'clock this (Saturday) afternoon at the Methodist church conducted by his pastor, Rev. Chas. W. Thomas, assisted by Dr. Claude M. Simpson, pastor of the First Methodist church of McKinney.

His remains were laid to rest in the Odd Fellows cemetery, at Farmersville.

Active pall bearers: J. L. Purvin, Dallas; J. B. Honaker, M. D. Honaker, W. H. Jouett, Henry Beam and P. L. Miller, all of Farmersville.

A profuse floral offering covered his new-made grave and burial lot, much of which came from friends and business associates from Wichita Falls, Dallas, McKinney where his daughter and and cities in Texas.

A large number of McKinney people and friends of the deceased, who was quite well known in McKinney where his daughter and [illegible]

WHITE'S GROVE ISSUES METHODIST CHURCH BULLETIN

This office issued a bulletin for the Sunday services, April 16, at the White's Grove Methodist church of which Rev. F. Lamar McGown of Allen is pastor. The following facts are gleaned from a perusal of this weekly printed bulletin:

Sunday school, 10 a. m., superintendent, J. A. Brimer.

Preaching, 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m., by the pastor, whose morning subject was "The Risen Christ" and evening subject, "The Holy Spirit."

Church pianist, Mrs. Winnie Woods.

Preaching at the White's Grove church every third Sunday of each month.

The board of stewards meets every Thursday night before the third Sunday of each month. It has system and teamwork in carrying along the Lord's work. The stewards are G. L. Shields, president; J. B. Horn, secretary and treasurer; C. W. Williams and Leon Horn.

Church lay leader, G. Leslie Shields.

Sunday school secretary, Miss Opal Horn.

Church secretary, Mrs. G. L. Shields.

The young people of the White's Grove church were guests of the pastor and wife in a social at the parsonage on Thursday night. It resulted in the re-organization of the league at that church.

The following delegates have been elected from the work, of which the White's Grove church is a part, to the district conference to be held at Duncanville, on April 25: Wiley Starnes, G. L. Shields, W. K. Gantt, Berry Biggs, Walter Rolf, George P. Berry, Mrs. J. L. Brooks, Mrs. C. W. Milner.

The pastor, Rev. Mr. McGown, reports a few cases of new sickness that keeps some church members at home, in the following news item:

A new sickness has appeared recently and is known as Morkus Sabbaticus, or Sunday sickness. It is a disease peculiar to church members. The attack comes suddenly every Sunday. No symptoms are felt Saturday night. The patient sleeps well, and eats a hardy breakfast, but about church time the attack comes on and continues until services are over in the morning. Then the patient feels easy and eats a good dinner. In the afternoon he feels much better and is able to take a walk, talk about politics and read the Sunday papers. He eats a hearty supper, and about church time he has another attack and stays at home. He retires early, sleeps well and wakes up on Monday morning refreshed and able to go to work, and does not have any symptoms of the disease until the following Sunday.

REPRESENTATIVE M'CULLOUGH IS FRIEND SCHOOLS

Rep. Joe W. McCullough of this county has been receiving so many petitions recently, in behalf of our public school system supporting taxes signed by citizens of different communities over the county, that it is next to impossible for him to write each individual signer a personal letter.

He, therefore, would like for this statement appearing in this and other papers of the county to be considered as personally acknowledging these numerous petitions and requests and also to say for him that he shall vote to maintain the present status of our public schools at every opportunity presented.

Mr. McCullough is thoroughly in sympathy with the cause of public free school education and is always willing to lend his influence, both as a private citizen and as a legislator, to maintain our public schools with adequate financial support.

John and Frank Tobin of Dallas attended the funeral of Mrs. Frank Cook Wednesday. They are representatives of a large lumber and shingle mills.

YOUR HOME TOWN

SEEN HERE AND THERE.

Let's confine our observations today to happenings over in Fifty-Ninth District court, which began Monday morning: Judge F. E. Wilcox, on the bench, and happy to be back again in McKinney for a court term . . . Grover Burton talking about going to Sherman . . . B. Frank Scott always attends opening day of court . . . Judge Wilcox complimenting fifteen grand jurors for their loyalty in being present; that's a good record, for only sixteen are summoned each court term; and some of them seemed very anxious to be excused . . . Gid Dowlen has been door bailiff at each court session here for many years.

SPRING FEVER

If you catch yourself in a sort of trance, with your mind wandering out to some golf course, fishing resort, or recreational center—just blame it on spring. It's an epidemic that sweeps the country about this time every year and, thus far, we have found no successful way to combat the malady—that is, until these spring-time appetites are satisfied. That's why lakes and streams are lined with fishermen these days, and why one must often wait his turn at golf courses—because everybody's got the spring fever and they're getting the germ out of their systems, so they'll be able to continue at their daily work with some degree of accuracy and responsibility.

DOES S. P. AFFECT YOU?

There's a lot of ways you can discern spring fever. In fact, it affects people in a variety of ways. Take, for example, the young lovers, who solemnly agree that they were meant for each other and who get an inspiration from sitting long hours in the moonlight, building aircastles. As a writer once said, the youth would like to carry the object of his charms off to some desert isle, but with the isle lacking, he'll be content to take her to some cute little love nest, possibly in a busy city, unmindful of the busy life going on about them.

Then, there's the familiar scene of the "man with the hoe." Each spring he is invariably "stung" by the gardening bee, which precipitates a visit to downtown stores where he buys a supply of gardening tools, seeds, etc., and immediately sets to work spading up the back yard, solemnly intent to cut down the high cost of living. Thereafter follows days filled with tired backs, aching feet, blistered fingers, not to mention the hours of watchful waiting while the hesitating plants peep forth and test his patience by getting off to a slow start in growth.

The Isaac Walton disciple really comes into his own during the glorious spring time. At the first sign of spring, he makes a "beeline" to the place where he has his fishing outfit in hiding during the winter months, sorts it out and makes ready for those jaunts to his favorite fishing resorts. He is usually rewarded by sunburn, ticks, painful sunburn and a firm declaration (which is followed) to never again fool his natural inclination to fool members of the finny tribe. All of which reminds us to warn you, if you are going to be on your guard lest you "fall" for too many of those spring-time fishing stories—you know, the kind that always get away.

And who's to forget the golf enthusiast for he is really and truly in his glory when he is greeted by the fair and balmy days of spring. Then it is that he gets his old golf clubs, gives them a good polishing and hies away to the nearest links. Of course, the first few games he plays are most always of the "rotten" variety and he'd much rather not mention the score he made on the nine or eighteen-hole course. But he'll improve, he declares—in fact, he's been making this same declaration for many years, although his game has showed very little improvement for all that time. But, at that, we must all admit that the exercise one gets from tramping around on a golf course several hours a day does one a world of good and provides the golfer with a lion-sized appetite.

THE most modern Kitchen is the all GAS Kitchen

BECAUSE of the convenience, flexibility and economy of gas service, the modern housewife has demanded gas appliances to lighten the burden of kitchen tasks. Gas engineers have responded with the Modern Gas Range, containing every cooking improvement, the Automatic Gas Water Heater, the Gas Ironer and the Gas Incinerator. To say that the most modern kitchen is the all gas kitchen is no idle generalization because . . .

Gas does anything that any other fuel will do and does it better!
